Control Law Idea Gets Cold Shoulder

Ike Administration Not Interested in Renewal of Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration gave a cool reception today to a proposal that Congress quickly enact a standby law providing wage, price, credit and rationing controls.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) suggested the action Wednesday at a two-day conference of 1,200 businessmen-members of the National Defense Executive Reserve.

Government officials attending the sessions indicated clearly, however, the administration would neither recommend nor request the standby power.

"Unquestionably the administration would accept standby authority if Congress voted it," one high mobilization official said, adding: "But we won't ask for it. This administration is committed to a policy of avoiding direct economic controls if possible."

He and others who commented along the same line declined to be quoted by name.

THE RESERVISTS are business executives who have served in Washington and stand ready to return in event of mobilization.

Capehart told them that the perils now facing the country make it advisable to set up the legal framework for wartime economic regulation.

He said that although he abhors controls, there are circumstances in which they are "necessary to preserve our free enterprise system against the forces of panic and runaway inflation that inevitably come with great emergencies."

But Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) said that "controls won't solve the problem."

"Every business man I have talked to agrees that the steam has gone out of inflation," he said. "By the time Congress convenes again I think we will have had at least one month when living costs have not gone up."

Bennett called instead for limited spending. He said that if more money is needed for missile development and other defense needs, as President Eisenhower said in a radio-TV talk Wednesday night, the extra amount ought to be shaved off other activities to prevent deficit spending.

Probers Seek Gangster Data From 'Tutor'

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Don (The Professor) Modica, who witnesses say tutors gangsters' sons in mathematics and the social graces, was called today to testify about New York's garbage disposal rackets.

The special Senate committee investigating rackets announced it wants to quiz him about his associations with Albert Anastasia, the recently slain executioner for Murder, Inc., and with Vincent J. Squillante, a Mafia mobster, described as Anastasia's godson.

Witnesses have named Anastasia's son Umberto as one of Modica's pupils.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Modica and Squillante's brother Nunzio will be important witnesses about racketeering and gunplay in the $50 million a year business of hauling garbage from business places and homes in New York.

The committee has heard testimony about murders, beatings and arson which Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) contends marked Vincent Squillante's rise to power as head of a veritable "business empire" in garbage rackets.

BULLETIN

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy announced today that a search plane from the carrier Philippine Sea had sighted nine bodies in the water in the area where a Pan American Airways passenger plane disappeared last Friday.

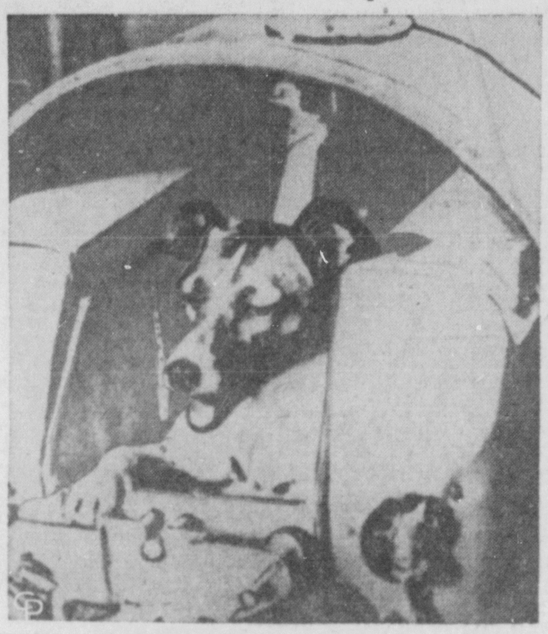

The Philippine Sea's report said one body appeared to be in an airplane seat.

The plane, "Romance Of the Skies," with 44 persons aboard, vanished on a routine flight from San Francisco to Honolulu some time after 5:04 p.m. last Friday.

The greatest peacetime search in the history of Pacific plane disasters has been in progress since.

The Philippine Sea's search plane was about 75 miles from the carrier when it radioed the sighting.

Relax! No Bears In U. S. Satellites!

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Dog lovers in the U.S. set up a howl when they learned the Russians had sent up a dog in Sputnik II.

It's understandable. In our country we grow up with the idea "a man's best friend is his dog."

Then came a shocking revelation.

About two weeks ago it was learned a New York game farm was sending four bears to the Air Force Missile Development Center at Alamogordo. For use in experiments!

There was another loud howl from the public. "You can't mistreat those poor bears! It's inhuman!"

Air Force information men reassured Mr. and Mrs. America that the bears were not going to be sent up in artificial satellites.

It was explained they have a bone structure much like man's. So they were going to be used in other experiments.

There are human volunteers galore, the Air Force says, who are willing to go through such tests for the eventual benefit of man. Col. John P. Stapp, chief of the aero-medical laboratory at the missile center, is one. He rode a rocket sled 632 miles an hour a few years ago and slammed to a violent stop — for the sake of science.

But scientists believe it's easier on man to use animals in such experiments and estimate from the results what would happen to a man in a like case.

Then came a report a pig had died in a demonstration. The story was that it had been fastened in a catapult-like sled and sent down a track to a violent stop such as a human might undergo in a head-on auto collision. It was to show auto makers how safety devices can save lives in accidents.

"Do you have to write anything about it?" was the anguished cry from the Air Force.

"We'd be missing an interesting point if we ignored the fact, wouldn't we?"

So out went the story. And an anxious young lieutenant chased after Col. Stapp to find out what to tell the easily offended public.

Col. Stapp came back with the assurance most of the risk was still being taken by men, although there was a bear in the act.

The public could relax again. There was no dead pig.

Khrush Gives Various Views

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev was in his best cocktail party form again Wednesday night, tossing off comments on a wide variety of topics. Some remarks of the Soviet Communist party boss:

"I know the United States doesn't have the kind of rockets we have and you won't have them soon."

President Eisenhower, secretary of State Dulles and all other American leaders would be welcomed in Moscow "as dear friends."

A British correspondent suggested to Khrushchev that the Soviet halt firing of its rockets.

"We have to test them," the Soviet leader said. "What can we do, pickle them?"

"Put them in a museum," a reporter suggested.

Record-Setting Flights Show New Power of U. S. Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force today pointed to the record-setting flights of a jet tanker plane as evidence that its far-reaching striking power must not be downrated in this dawning missile era.

The KC135 jet tanker hops to Buenos Aires and back were part of an apparent Air Force demonstration of strength and mobility.

There also were distance flights of bombers and fighters far into the Pacific, and a group of B52 intercontinental jet bombers stated on a visit to Argentina.

The Boeing KC135 and its crew, headed by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, received special welcome here Wednesday after flying 5,204 miles from Buenos Aires in 11 hours, 5 minutes and 8 tenths of a second. This first nonstop jet flight between the Argentine capital and Washington was made at an average speed of 469.5 miles an hour.

This same ship and crew last Monday set a distance record for nonrefueled jet flight in streaking from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., to Buenos Aires—a stretch of 6,325 miles—in 13 hours, 2 minutes and 51 seconds. That flight was made over a longer range to underscore the plane's long reach.

• • •

LEMAY, AIR Force vice chief of staff, piloted the KC135 for much of both trips. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross at an airport ceremony on his arrival here. Other members of the tanker's crew also were decorated.

Two Ohioans were among aircrew members. They were Capt. Frank L. Wright of Dayton, a pilot, and First Lt. Lorne E. Carter of Cleveland, a navigator.

The Air Force also was staging other exhibitions of its distance capabilities.

Six B52 bombers headed for Buenos Aires to take part in Argentine air show later in the week. The six planes, based at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine made an interim stop Wednesday night at Homestead, Fla.

Fourteen F100C Sabre Jets reached Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu, Wednesday after a five-hour, 2,400-mile flight from California, en route to Guam.

A flight of F100D fighter bombers from Gannon Air Force Base, New Mexico, flew to Hickam today, to be followed Friday by a group of F100 Voodoo fighters.

Wednesday, three twin-jet B66 bombers landed at Clark Air Force Base near Manila, after a nonstop transpacific flight from the United States

French Rap Aid to Tunisia

America, Britain Told of Paris View

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today the French government will consider any American or British delivery of arms to Tunisia contrary to Atlantic solidarity.

Pineau told the National Assembly's Foreign Affairs Committee that Britain and the United States "are about to effect delivery of arms to Tunisia."

Pineau announced the Cabinet's opposition to arms for France's former protectorate after an all-night series of meetings and exchanges between Premier Felix Gaillard and British and American envoys.

U. S. Ambassador Amory Houghton delivered a note to Gaillard Wednesday stating the United States wants to go ahead with arms deliveries to Tunisia. By doing so, the Americans hope to stave off Tunisian acceptance of Soviet-bloc arms offered by Egypt.

• • •

THE FRENCH are reluctant to see any arms flow into Tunisia for fear they will funnel on to the Algerian rebels.

Pineau said he would confer on the problem with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles when he visits Washington next week — a trip which has been planned for more than a week.

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said Britain had not yet supplied any military equipment to newly independent Tunisia but that the question of such shipments "has been and still is under consideration."

Gray Ladies Council Holds Meeting Here

General policy for the Gray Ladies, volunteer hospital service unit, was discussed at the Country Club here Wednesday at a meeting of the Buckeye Council of the American Red Cross Volunteer Services.

The 15 - county council directs local Gray Ladies as they fulfill their various duties in volunteer services for patients at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

The council secures items for the Christmas gift shop, Christmas stockings and refreshments and novelties for parties and dances for various occasions.

Neil Laughlin of Licking County, chairman of the association, presided at the meeting. Delegates from counties throughout South Central Ohio were present.

Representing the local Gray Ladies were Mrs. William Bailey and Mrs. J. E. Peters, co - chairmen, Mrs. George Hooks, Mrs. Ellis Bishop, Mrs. H. L. Osborne, Mrs. Mary Carlisle, Miss Mayme Kruscamp and Miss Mildred Wackman.

2 Chillicothe Girls Die in Fire

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—Two teenage sisters were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed their home here.

They were Helen, 18, and Linda Sue Graves, 13. They were trapped in the upper floor of the house.

Their widowed mother, Mrs. Clarence Graves, escaped from the first floor, but was unable to save her daughters.

A brother, Russell, 26, crippled because of an amputated leg, rolled himself down the stairway, crawled to his car, drove to the home of another brother, Clarence Jr., to turn in the alarm.

Eisenhower Planning Vacation in Georgia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower hope to go to Augusta, Ga., Friday for a vacation lasting until about the middle of next week.

Hike in Space Age Weapons Spending Said Must by Ike

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday night warned the cost of space age weapons means a "very considerable" boost in defense spending is coming and that Congress will have to face the tough task of cutting nonessential programs.

He said Americans won't tolerate sacrificing security to the worship of a balanced budget. This impending boost will mean sharp cuts in some nonmilitary spending programs in next years budget to offset a part of the hike, he said.

Some of these programs may have to be eliminated entirely, the President declared and added that "pressure groups will wail in anguish."

Eisenhower did not estimate how much defense spending will have to be increased after paring the budget wherever possible on nonmilitary categories. But he did say: "By whatever amount savings fail to equal the additional costs of security, our total expenditures will go up.

"Our people will rightly demand it. They will not sacrifice security worshiping a balanced budget.

"But we do not forget, either, that over the long term a balanced budget is one indispensable aid in keeping our economy, and our total security, strong."

In a nationwide television-radio address, the President also called for a stepped-up educational program of training scientists to meet the Russian threat. He suggested the program include such incentives as fellowship grants to provide more science teachers. But he did not go into detail on his suggestion.

He also called for greater concentration on basic research, saying "the warning lies in the fast rate of increase of the Soviet effort" in that field of science.

Making the second of a series of "chins up" talks designed to bolster United States confidence in free world defense capabilities, he said, in his talk "the challenge is being met and will continue to be met.

He cautioned that the Soviet Union's recent achievements in development of weapons of the future mean "there is danger ahead for free men everywhere."

The President, addressing an overflow audience in the 6,000-seat Municipal Auditorium, recalled that Nazi dictator Hitler once boasted he would bury the free world.

Council Studies PUCO Report In Deliberations on Gas Rate

A report on property valuations of the Dayton Power and Light Co.'s gas division in Washington C. H., including an analysis of the company's revenues and expenses applicable to gas service here, was presented to City Council Wednesday night by two representatives of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Council had requested the report after DP&L asked an 8.3 per cent gas rate increase on April 25.

Members of the legislative body discussed the report for nearly two hours and closely questioned Boyd D. Tackett, PUCO engineer, who presented the section on property valuation, and Conklin Jackson, commission accountant, who discussed the company's local revenues and expenditures.

• • •

COUNCIL has a choice of three courses in the gas rate matter: they can pass an ordinance incorporating the 8.3 percent rate hike requested by the company; they can pass an ordinance setting a lesser rate which the company could appeal to the Public Utilities Commission, or they can decline to take any action, which would mean that DP&L would ask the PUCO to establish a fair rate for the city.

The commission, according to Ohio law, bases its rate-fixing formula on the cost of reproduction of a utility's facilities, taking into consideration the rate of depreciation.

According to the report submitted to Council Wednesday night, the 8.3 per cent increase requested by the company would provide a 3.05 per cent return on the DP&L investment here, as compared with a 2.09 per cent rate of return under the present ordinance. While state law sets up no fixed rate of return, the Supreme Court, which is the final authority in rate matters, has held that a 6 per cent return is not excessive.

• • •

QUESTIONED by Council, Tackett said that DP&L's requested 20 per cent rate increase at Greenfield, which is contesting the company's proposal in the utilities commission, would provide an approximate return of 5 per cent on the company's investment there, while the rate proposed for Dayton would provide a 4.73 per cent return.

Reproduction value of the company's Washington C. H. gas properties is $1,428,538, according to the report, while DP&L's actual booked value on the same property is $767,767, PUCO figures show. The reproduction value less depreciation, which is the basis of the rate-making formula, is $1,133,347.

Councilman Walter Morrow raised the question as to why rates are based on reproduction value rather than the company's actual investment in a community.

City Manager James F. Parkinson pointed out that Ohio League of Municipalities has been fighting the rate-making formula for the last 12 years on the grounds that it is unfair.

• • •

TACKETT, answering a direct question, said that in his personal opinion the rate asked by the utility here is not out of line with rates in comparable cities elsewhere and offered to present comparitive rate tables if Council should request them. His offer was accepted.

The 25-page report, most of it statistical, disclosed that the requested rate would increase the company's total operating revenue here from $534,855 to $579,223. It would provide $34,736 in increased revenue from residential customers, $8,116 additional from commercial customers, $942 more from indus-

Gaping Hole 60 Feet Deep Threatens Homes in Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Seventy - five persons were evacuated today as a gaping hole 60 feet deep engulfed a North Side boulevard and threatened to gulp down nine homes and an apartment house.

The ugly black crater, the stubby ends of broken water, gas and sewer pipes jutting from its sides, was 150 feet long and 75 feet wide.

Fifty of those evacuated at the orders of police were residents of the nine homes and the five-unit apartment house directly threatened by the hole. The others lived in homes flooded by backed up sewers.

Workmen just managed to save tons of steel beams and a $25,000 crane sent to the scene only Wednesday. The steel beams were to have been used to shore up the sides of the hole.

Several of the beams sunk into place Wednesday were twisted like copper wire when the rapid crumbling of the sides of the hole restarted.

A member of the city engineers staff said 8,000 cubic yards of dirt had been sucked away.

The hole was in a neighborhood of homes in the $15,000 to $20,000 class a few blocks north of the University of Washington.

Water backed up in sewers also threatened a number of other streets in the area.

City officials said the trunk sewer could have broken years ago, with the underground hole gradually growing until the great mass above collapsed.

Ike's Offer to Adlai Seen Bid To Stall Partisan Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration hopes to limit partisan debate on some major foreign issues by bringing Adlai Stevenson into preparation of plans for next month's Allied summit conference in Paris.

The Democratic leader has accepted a bid from the Republican administration to come here next Monday and confer with Secretary of State Dulles. The State Department presumably hopes to have tentative proposals for the NATO meeting worked out by then.

The invitation to Stevenson and his acceptance were the latest moves in a cautious political and policy negotiation designed to revive bipartisanship in foreign affairs in the face of Russia's gains in military power.

How well the effort will succeed in forestalling sharp party controversy when Congress returns in January depends mainly on two critical factors:

1. The extent to which President Eisenhower and Dulles consult with Stevenson in detail and accept his ideas in shaping policy.

2. The degree of support Stevenson can muster among Democratic leaders in Congress for any plans to which he may decide to commit himself.

• • •

RESULTS OF the Monday meeting, which could also lead to a talk between Stevenson and Eisenhower, may show clearly how much bipartisan cooperation exists.

Stevenson himself has reserved his right to criticize proposals with which he disagrees.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) says the forthcoming NATO conference will be called upon to solve problems "of such grave nature that they imperatively require bipartisan action."

Lausche's remarks were made after the selection of Stevenson as consultant in shaping the NATO program.

Eisenhower has already declared he would seek changes in U. S. law to permit sharing atomic secrets with Allied nations.

The administration is also expected to ask for an increase in funds available, either as loans or grants, for foreign aid.

Population of U. S. Now 172,069,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The population of the United States rose to an estimated 172,069,000 as of last Oct. 1, the Census Bureau reported today.

That is an increase of nearly 21 million, or 14 per cent, since the last census on April 1, 1950.

U. S. Health Chief Cites Jap Recurrence

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Leroy E. Burney, U. S. surgeon general, said today that Asian flu may have started its second trip around the world.

Here to attend a meeting of the American Public Health Assn., Dr. Burney said that Japan had been hit by a second wave of the disease, with 300,000 new cases.

"It is a possibility that the United States will be hit a second time," he said.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Public Health Service reported in Washington that there were 1,100,000 new cases of Asian Flu in 38 states during the week ended Nov. 9, based on reports from state health authorities.

The service reported that a number of states reported fewer new cases of influenza and influenza-like diseases last week but various other states reported continued high incidence.

• • •

THE SERVICE also reported that deaths from pneumonia and influenza in 114 large cities increased by only 4 per cent during the week ended Nov. 9 when compared with the previous week. There had been an 11 per cent increase during the week ended Nov. 2.

The 887 deaths from pneumonia and influenza last week ran three times the 291 in the corresponding 1956 week.

Since Sept. 1 there have been 2,410 more deaths from influenza and pneumonia than in the similar 1956 span. Nearly 90 per cent of the excess occurred in the last six weeks.

U. S. Hinting Time Near for 'Moon' Firing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the U. S. space satellite program, Project Vanguard, says American scientists are "now pretty close" to asking that the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., be cleared for firing the first U.S. satellite test sphere.

Announced American plans call for launching small test spheres next month and firing the first fully developed satellite in March.

A spokesman for the Grand Central Rocket Co., Mentone, Calif., said his firm was notified by the Navy Tuesday that the first U.S. satellite, a sphere 6.4 inches in diameter, would go aloft Dec. 1.

In Washington, the Navy said no exact date has been set, although it said it still plans firings next month.

The first Soviet satellite was launched Oct. 4. The second one was sent up Nov. 3 with a small dog aboard. Radio equipment on both satellites now is dead and the dog, Laika, is believed to have died inside Sputnik II.

Moscow radio said Wednesday night that Russian scientists are sure Laika "was quite well and comfortable to the end."

Woman, Not Dog, Bites Mailman

NEW YORK (AP) — Mailmen occasionally have unfortunate experiences with dogs, but carrier Leroy Hunter said he had the "bite" put on him by a woman.

In court Wednesday, Hunter charged he was bitten on the wrist by Mrs. Gloria Rohan, 21, because he refused to hand over her relief check, but instead put it in her mailbox in accordance with postal rules.

Mrs. Rohan's lawyer said she has false teeth and it could not have been much of a bite.

Magistrate Neal P. Bottiglieri held Mrs. Rohan in $500 bail on a charge of third-degree assault.

Fourteen F100C Sabre Jets reached Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu, Wednesday after a five-hour, 2,400-mile flight from California, en route to Guam.

A flight of F100D fighter bombers from Gannon Air Force Base, New Mexico, flew to Hickam today, to be followed Friday by a group of F100 Voodoo fighters.

Wednesday, three twin-jet B66 bombers landed at Clark Air Force Base near Manila, after a nonstop transpacific flight from the United States

French Rap Aid to Tunisia

America, Britain Told of Paris View

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today the French government will consider any American or British delivery of arms to Tunisia contrary to Atlantic solidarity.

Pineau told the National Assembly's Foreign Affairs Committee that Britain and the United States "are about to effect delivery of arms to Tunisia."

Pineau announced the Cabinet's opposition to arms for France's former protectorate after an all-night series of meetings and exchanges between Premier Felix Gaillard and British and American envoys.

U. S. Ambassador Amory Houghton delivered a note to Gaillard Wednesday stating the United States wants to go ahead with arms deliveries to Tunisia. By doing so, the Americans hope to stave off Tunisian acceptance of Soviet-bloc arms offered by Egypt.

• • •

THE FRENCH are reluctant to see any arms flow into Tunisia for fear they will funnel on to the Algerian rebels.

Pineau said he would confer on the problem with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles when he visits Washington next week — a trip which has been planned for more than a week.

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said Britain had not yet supplied any military equipment to newly independent Tunisia but that the question of such shipments "has been and still is under consideration."

Gray Ladies Council Holds Meeting Here

General policy for the Gray Ladies, volunteer hospital service unit, was discussed at the Country Club here Wednesday at a meeting of the Buckeye Council of the American Red Cross Volunteer Services.

The 15 - county council directs local Gray Ladies as they fulfill their various duties in volunteer services for patients at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

The council secures items for the Christmas gift shop, Christmas stockings and refreshments and novelties for parties and dances for various occasions.

Neil Laughlin of Licking County, chairman of the association, presided at the meeting. Delegates from counties throughout South Central Ohio were present.

Representing the local Gray Ladies were Mrs. William Bailey and Mrs. J. E. Peters, co - chairmen, Mrs. George Hooks, Mrs. Ellis Bishop, Mrs. H. L. Osborne, Mrs. Mary Carlisle, Miss Mayme Kruscamp and Miss Mildred Wackman.

2 Chillicothe Girls Die in Fire

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—Two teenage sisters were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed their home here.

They were Helen, 18, and Linda Sue Graves, 13. They were trapped in the upper floor of the house.

Their widowed mother, Mrs. Clarence Graves, escaped from the first floor, but was unable to save her daughters.

A brother, Russell, 26, crippled because of an amputated leg, rolled himself down the stairway, crawled to his car, drove to the home of another brother, Clarence Jr., to turn in the alarm.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower hope to go to Augusta, Ga., Friday for a vacation lasting until about the middle of next week.

Hike in Space Age Weapons Spending Said Must by Ike

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday night warned the cost of space age weapons means a "very considerable" boost in defense spending is coming and that Congress will have to face the tough task of cutting nonessential programs.

He said Americans won't tolerate sacrificing security to the worship of a balanced budget. This impending boost will mean sharp cuts in some nonmilitary spending programs in next years budget to offset a part of the hike, he said.

Some of these programs may have to be eliminated entirely, the President declared and added that "pressure groups will wail in anguish."

Eisenhower did not estimate how much defense spending will have to be increased after paring the budget wherever possible on non-military categories. But he did say: "By whatever amount savings fail to equal the additional costs of security, our total expenditures will go up.

"Our people will rightly demand it. They will not sacrifice security worshiping a balanced budget.

"But we do not forget, either, that over the long term a balanced budget is one indispensable aid in keeping our economy, and our total security, strong."

In a nationwide television-radio address, the President also called for a stepped-up educational program of training scientists to meet the Russian threat. He suggested the program include such incentives as fellowship grants to provide more science teachers. But he did not go into detail on his suggestion.

He also called for greater concentration on basic research, saying "the warning lies in the fast rate of increase of the Soviet effort" in that field of science.

Making the second of a series of "chins up" talks designed to bolster United States confidence in free world defense capabilities, he said, in his talk "the challenge is being met and will continue to be met.

He cautioned that the Soviet Union's recent achievements in development of weapons of the future mean "there is danger ahead for free men everywhere."

The President, addressing an overflow audience in the 6,000-seat Municipal Auditorium, recalled that Nazi dictator Hitler once boasted he would bury the free world.

Council Studies PUCO Report In Deliberations on Gas Rate

A report on property valuations of the Dayton Power and Light Co.'s gas division in Washington C. H., including an analysis of the company's revenues and expenses applicable to gas service here, was presented to City Council Wednesday night by two representatives of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Council had requested the report after DP&L asked an 8.3 per cent gas rate increase on April 25.

Members of the legislative body discussed the report for nearly two hours and closely questioned Boyd D. Tackett, PUCO engineer, who presented the section on property valuation, and Conklin Jackson, commission accountant, who discussed the company's local revenues and expenditures.

• • •

COUNCIL has a choice of three courses in the gas rate matter: they can pass an ordinance incorporating the 8.3 percent rate hike requested by the company; they can pass an ordinance setting a lesser rate which the company could appeal to the Public Utilities Commission, or they can decline to take any action, which would mean that DP&L would ask the PUCO to establish a fair rate for the city.

The commission, according to Ohio law, bases its rate-fixing formula on the cost of reproduction of a utility's facilities, taking into consideration the rate of depreciation.

According to the report submitted to Council Wednesday night, the 8.3 per cent increase requested by the company would provide a 3.05 per cent return on the DP&L investment here, as compared with a 2.09 per cent rate of return under the present ordinance. While state law sets up no fixed rate of return, the Supreme Court, which is the final authority in rate matters, has held that a 6 per cent return is not excessive.

• • •

QUESTIONED by Council, Tackett said that DP&L's requested 20 per cent rate increase at Greenfield, which is contesting the company's proposal in the utilities commission, would provide an approximate return of 5 per cent on the company's investment there, while the rate proposed for Dayton would provide a 4.73 per cent return.

Reproduction value of the company's Washington C. H. gas properties is $1,428,538, according to the report, while DP&L's actual booked value on the same property is $767,767, PUCO figures show. The reproduction value less depreciation, which is the basis of the rate-making formula, is $1,133,347.

Councilman Walter Morrow raised the question as to why rates are based on reproduction value rather than the company's actual investment in a community.

City Manager James F. Parkinson pointed out that Ohio League of Municipalities has been fighting the rate-making formula for the last 12 years on the grounds that it is unfair.

• • •

TACKETT, answering a direct question, said that in his personal opinion the rate asked by the utility here is not out of line with rates in comparable cities elsewhere and offered to present comparitive rate tables if Council should request them. His offer was accepted.

The 25-page report, most of it statistical, disclosed that the requested rate would increase the company's total operating revenue here from $534,855 to $579,223. It would provide $34,736 in increased revenue from residential customers, $8,116 additional from commercial customers, $942 more from indus-

Gaping Hole 60 Feet Deep Threatens Homes in Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Seventy - five persons were evacuated today as a gaping hole 60 feet deep engulfed a North Side boulevard and threatened to gulp down nine homes and an apartment house.

The ugly black crater, the stubby ends of broken water, gas and sewer pipes jutting from its sides, was 150 feet long and 75 feet wide.

Fifty of those evacuated at the orders of police were residents of the nine homes and the five-unit apartment house directly threatened by the hole. The others lived in homes flooded by backed up sewers.

Workmen just managed to save tons of steel beams and a $25,000 crane sent to the scene only Wednesday. The steel beams were to have been used to shore up the sides of the hole.

Several of the beams sunk into place Wednesday were twisted like copper wire when the rapid crumbling of the sides of the hole restarted.

A member of the city engineers staff said 8,000 cubic yards of dirt had been sucked away.

The hole was in a neighborhood of homes in the $15,000 to $20,000 class a few blocks north of the University of Washington.

Water backed up in sewers also threatened a number of other streets in the area.

City officials said the trunk sewer could have broken years ago, with the underground hole gradually growing until the great mass above collapsed.

Ike's Offer to Adlai Seen Bid To Stall Partisan Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration hopes to limit partisan debate on some major foreign issues by bringing Adlai Stevenson into preparation of plans for next month's Allied summit conference in Paris.

The Democratic leader has accepted a bid from the Republican administration to come here next Monday and confer with Secretary of State Dulles. The State Department presumably hopes to have tentative proposals for the NATO meeting worked out by then.

The invitation to Stevenson and his acceptance were the latest moves in a cautious political and policy negotiation designed to revive bipartisanship in foreign affairs in the face of Russia's gains in military power.

How well the effort will succeed in forestalling sharp party controversy when Congress returns in January depends mainly on two critical factors:

1. The extent to which President Eisenhower and Dulles consult with Stevenson in detail and accept his ideas in shaping policy.

2. The degree of support Stevenson can muster among Democratic leaders in Congress for any plans to which he may decide to commit himself.

• • •

RESULTS OF the Monday meeting, which could also lead to a talk between Stevenson and Eisenhower, may show clearly how much bipartisan cooperation exists.

Stevenson himself has reserved his right to criticize proposals with which he disagrees.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) says the forthcoming NATO conference will be called upon to solve problems "of such grave nature that they imperatively require bipartisan action."

Lausche's remarks were made after the selection of Stevenson as consultant in shaping the NATO program.

Eisenhower has already declared he would seek changes in U. S. law to permit sharing atomic secrets with Allied nations.

The administration is also expected to ask for an increase in funds available, either as loans or grants, for foreign aid.

U. S. Health Chief Cites Jap Recurrence

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Leroy E. Burney, U. S. surgeon general, said today that Asian flu may have started its second trip around the world.

Here to attend a meeting of the American Public Health Assn., Dr. Burney said that Japan had been hit by a second wave of the disease, with 300,000 new cases.

"It is a possibility that the United States will be hit a second time," he said.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Public Health Service reported in Washington that there were 1,100,000 new cases of Asian Flu in 38 states during the week ended Nov. 9, based on reports from state health authorities.

The service reported that a number of states reported fewer new cases of influenza and influenza-like diseases last week but various other states reported continued high incidence.

• • •

THE SERVICE also reported that deaths from pneumonia and influenza in 114 large cities increased by only 4 per cent during the week ended Nov. 9 when compared with the previous week. There had been an 11 per cent increase during the week ended Nov. 2.

The 887 deaths from pneumonia and influenza last week ran three times the 291 in the corresponding 1956 week.

Since Sept. 1 there have been 2,410 more deaths from influenza and pneumonia than in the similar 1956 span. Nearly 90 per cent of the excess occurred in the last six weeks.

U. S. Hinting Time Near for 'Moon' Firing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the U. S. space satellite program, Project Vanguard, says American scientists are "now pretty close" to asking that the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., be cleared for firing the first U.S. satellite test sphere.

Announced American plans call for launching small test spheres next month and firing the first fully developed satellite in March.

A spokesman for the Grand Central Rocket Co., Mentone, Calif., said his firm was notified by the Navy Tuesday that the first U.S. satellite, a sphere 6.4 inches in diameter, would go aloft Dec. 1.

In Washington, the Navy said no exact date has been set, although it said it still plans firings next month.

The first Soviet satellite was launched Oct. 4. The second one was sent up Nov. 3 with a small dog aboard. Radio equipment on both satellites now is dead and the dog, Laika, is believed to have died inside Sputnik II.

Moscow radio said Wednesday night that Russian scientists are sure Laika "was quite well and comfortable to the end."

Woman, Not Dog, Bites Mailman

NEW YORK (AP) — Mailmen occasionally have unfortunate experiences with dogs, but carrier Leroy Hunter said he had the "bite" put on him by a woman.

In court Wednesday, Hunter charged he was bitten on the wrist by Mrs. Gloria Rohan, 21, because he refused to hand over her relief check, but instead put it in her mailbox in accordance with postal rules.

Mrs. Rohan's lawyer said she has false teeth and it could not have been much of a bite.

Magistrate Neal P. Bottiglieri held Mrs. Rohan in $500 bail on a charge of third-degree assault.

Population of U. S. Now 172,069,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The population of the United States rose to an estimated 172,069,000 as of last Oct. 1, the Census Bureau reported today.

That is an increase of nearly 21 million, or 14 per cent, since the last census on April 1, 1950.

Little Theater Meeting Nov. 22

Everyone Interested Invited To Attend

The Community Players— a little theater group formed here for the "pursuit of the drama"— will hold its second general meeting Nov. 22 at 8 p. m. in the Cherry Hotel.

The date and place was set by the directors at their meeting Wednesday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Lawyer.

The coming general meeting, it was said, is for the purpose of giving the group a "more vivid and detailed analysis" of the three-act comedy, "His and Hers," the Community Players will present in the spring. The play was written by Fay and Michael Kanin.

Mrs. Thomas Gormley, who will direct the group's first production, also will give background information on the play, the characters and the roles they will play.

* * *

AFTER Wednesday night's meeting, it was announced that "everyone interested is urged to attend the Nov. 22 meeting because membership in the group will be closed then until after the first of next year.

There are about 20 in the group now. It was formed early last fall and, while the directors have held several meetings, the Nov. 22 meeting will be the second for the entire group.

The board is made up of the officers chosen at the organization meeting: Hal Summers, president; Thomas Gormley, vice president; Mrs. Lawyer, recording secretary; Miss Helen Slavens, corresponding secretary; and Don Kiser, treasurer.

3-Way Cross Best For Market Pigs Class Concludes

The young and adult farmers class at Jeffersonville concluded that "a three-way cross is best for producing market pigs," following a discussion of "Breeding of Swine," the subject taken up at this week's meeting, Ralph Fordyce, the teacher, said.

At next week's meeting the class will study "Feeding the Sow or Gilt During the Gestation Period" and "Balancing and Formulating Rations."

Ham sandwiches, doughnuts, milk or coffee were served after the class was dismissed.

Space Age Weapons

likening the situation then to the Russian threat today.

"We shall not make that mistake again," he declared.

Eisenhower's assertion that defense spending on missiles and other weapons of the future must be hiked by "a very considerable figure" quite likely killed hopes for a tax cut next year.

After outlining some individual and specific costs, the President said: "There has been much discussion lately about whether Soviet technological break-throughs in particular areas may have suddenly exposed us to immediately increased danger.

"As I pointed out last week, this is not the case. But these accomplishments have provided us all with renewed evidence of Soviet competence in science and techniques important to modern warfare. We must, and do, regard this as a time for another critical reexamination of our entire defense system."

In his address, the President indicated some areas in which increased spending loomed:

1. The stepped-up dispersal of Strategic Air Command bases.
2. Improvements of the warning system for any enemy attack.
3. Development of an active missile defense against missiles.
4. Additional money where needed in the development of long-range missiles.
5. A pay raise for military personnel.

Deaths, Funerals

Thomas E. Woodruff

Thomas E. Woodruff, 77, died at 5:30 a. m. Thursday in the Hurles Rest Home, 716 Clinton Ave., where he had been a patient about three months.

A native of Pike County, he moved here when he was 20 years old.

He spent most of his life in the Jeffersonville area, where he farmed for many years.

Survivors include his wife, Nellie, of Jeffersonville; five sons, Elza, of Washington C. H., Donald and David of Columbus, Dean of Biloxi, Miss., and Clair, of Indiana; two daughters, Mrs. Rachael Rockwell of Lima and Miss Phyllis Woodruff of Dayton; two brothers, Dill of Washington C. H. and Earl of Plain City; and two sisters, Miss Margaret of Washington C. H. and Miss Alma of Cleveland.

Friends may call after 7 p. m. Thursday at the Parrett Funeral Home, where services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday. The Rev. Berry Kennedy of the South Side Church of Christ will officiate.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Jeffersonville.

MRS. MARGARET WALLACE—Services were held for Mrs. Margaret Wallace at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home in New Holland at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Wallace died at 12:30 p. m. in the Chillicothe hospital Sunday. She had been a patient there for two weeks. Services were conducted by the Rev. Glenn Robinson, pastor of the New Holland Methodist Church.

Pallbearers were David Long, Clarence Fox, Leonard and Ray Reisinger, William Hoskins and Fred McCoy.

Burial was in Springlawn Cemetery, Williamsport.

Boy, 16, Accused Of Aiding Thugs

PAINESVILLE (AP)—FBI agents have arrested 16-year-old Allen R. Francis of Concord Township and charged him with aiding the three robbers who took $27,000 in a holdup of the Andover Bank Oct. 25.

Special Agent W. A. Murphy said the youth is accused of stealing an automobile in nearby Mentor the night before the bank robbery, and turning it over to the trio for their use in the crime. It was found near Lake Pymatuning a few hours after the holdup.

Murphy said the robbers had agreed to pay Francis for getting the car for them. The youth was not accused of taking part in the Andover robbery.

Reno's Worker Photo Law Being Expanded

RENO (AP) — The City Council listened patiently to complaints that an ordinance requiring the photographing for work permits of Chinese employed in gambling houses was discriminatory.

So it passed a new ordinance requiring that everyone be photographed.

Vets Administration Chieftain Resigns Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harvey V. Higley has resigned as veterans administrator.

President Eisenhower accepted the resignation late Wednesday "with reluctance and a very real sense of loss."

Higley's letter gave assigned no reason for his move, but it was learned that he told the White House in September he wanted to go back to private life.

Defendant Asks Gag, Judge Obliges

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Maricopa County Judge Fred J. Hyder warned the defendant in an arson trial Wednesday to keep silent.

But James Van de la Bogart, 65, of Mesa, Ariz., continued to interrupt court proceedings with loud cries of "I'm being railroaded. I demand my rights."

Judge Hyder issued another warning.

Van de la Bogart yelled back, "Why don't you gag me?"

Judge Hyder answered by instructing Sheriff's Deputy Kenneth Love to put a dish towel over the defendant's mouth.

The gag stayed there until a jury was selected.

Defense Aide Sees Need for Tighter Setup

CINCINNATI (AP) — Reuben B. Robertson Jr., former deputy secretary of defense, declared here Wednesday night that the United States must further tighten and streamline the command structures in its defense program.

Those jobs, Robertson said, involve continental defense, tactical forces, support forces, research and development for the future and cooperation with allies in mutual defense efforts.

Robertson asserted that "in the urgent missile fields there is no reason whatsoever to believe that we are behind." He added that in the satellite area "it is obvious we are not ahead."

The former defense deputy declared streamlining of support forces would entail a more realistic dealing with manpower.

"Our present military compensation system must be revised to provide rewards for merit and performance rather than longevity," he said. "Certain inequities in our pay system must be cleaned up."

Marine Convicted For Brutality to Sailors in Brig

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — One U. S. Marine was convicted and another acquitted today as the Navy began trials of 16 Leathernecks accused of brutality to brig prisoners at Sasebo Naval Base.

Cpl. Glenn W. Fredericks, 21, Fleetmute, Alaska, was sentenced to 14 days at hard labor and reduced to private rank for punching a sailor while Fredericks was on guard duty in the Navy brig at the south Japan Navy base.

A similar charge against Cpl. Dayton W. Dierkson, 21, St. Lawrence, S. D., was dropped when the complainant told the court he could not remember being hit by Dierkson. The Marine is due for discharge Friday.

Gas Rate Study

trial customers and $572 more from governmental authorities.

* * *

THE COMPANY'S rate proposal, which its representatives said has been accepted by 47 of the 61 municipalities served by DP&L, sets up the following charges:

(1) A $1.00 minimum charge for the first 500 cubic feet. (This represents no change from the present schedule).

(2) Eight cents per hundred for the next 2,500 cubic feet. (This is one cent more per hundred than at present).

(3) Seven cents per hundred for the next 3,000 cubic feet. (The present rate is 6½ cents per hundred).

(4) Six and a half cents per hundred for all gas used over 6,000 cubic feet per month. (The present rate is 6 cents per hundred).

There would be no change in the present commercial rate.

* * *

ACCORDING to PUCO accountants the "high average" gas bill for a six-room home would increase $2.10 (from $25.10 to $27.20) under the proposed rate schedule.

A $10.10 monthly bill would go up to $10.95, and a $37.10 charge would go up to $40.20. Other increases would be in proportion.

Councilmen will make a further detailed study of the report, which was prepared without cost to the city, before deciding upon a course of action.

Some Navy Men But Not All, To Leave Pole Soon

MCMURDO SOUND (AP) — The Navy's "old explorers," veterans of the long dark winter in the antarctic, were told today some but not all of them might get out by Christmas.

Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, Navy commander in the antarctic, told the men due for rotation they could leave any time their one-year assignments are up and their jobs completed, if weather and ice conditions permits planes and ships to take them out.

Nineteen veterans of the recently ended polar winter have left. More than 60 others remain.

Dufek said two Navy ships are due to leave New Zealand Nov. 22 with supplies for the U.S. stations at Little America and McMurdo Sound. They will take out some veterans and others will be flown home, the admiral said.

Whitehall Man Held as Bank Thug

The Federal Bureau of Investigation identified him as Bill Evan Sparks of Whitehall.

Federal agents said he admitted he was the "Ivy League bandit" who robbed the bank.

The FBI said he was arrested at his home late Wednesday afternoon and arraigned on bank robbery charges before U. S. Commissioner Robert Newlon.

Dentist Drill Removed From Lung; Suit Filed

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Charles Frye Jr., who says he had to undergo surgery for removal of a dentist's drill which became disengaged and went down his throat has sued the dentist for $75,000.

The suit, filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court, named Dr. A. F. Winter of Logan, W. Va. Frye said the drill lodged in his left lung.

Procrastinators Name '56 Queen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Procrastinators Club of America, dedicated to doing-it-later, has finally crowned its 1956 queen.

She's 17-year-old Beth Swinand, who, like the other club members, believes it's better to do tomorrow what you might have done today. Lester Waas, 37-year-old head of the club, says procrastination is relaxing, healthful and leads to success in life.

The club is planning a Christmas party — for April or thereabouts. Members postponed a decision on the exact date.

Willie Mays Denied House Due to Color

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays' attempt to buy a house here failed Wednesday because he is a Negro.

The spectacular 27-year-old San Francisco Giants centerfielder offered the $37,500 the owner asked for a new house, but was turned down after a wait of several days. The owner said there was great neighborhood pressure against the deal.

Walter A. Gnesdiloff, who is still offering the house at the same price — but not to Mays—said:

"I'm just a union working man and I'd never get another job if I sold this house to that baseball player. I feel sorry for him, and if the neighbors say it would be OK I'd do it."

Gnesdiloff, a small-scale builder and contractor in the upper middle class area, said two property owners he works for put pressure on him not to sell to Mays and neighbors objected by telephone.

"I've never been through this kind of stuff and I'm not even mad about it now," the normally exuberant Mays said.

Mays' wife, Marguerite, wasn't quite as philosophical about it.

"Down in Alabama where we come from," she said, "you know your place, and that's something, at least. But up here it's all a lot of camouflage. They grin in your face and then deceive you."

Mansfield Boy, 16, Killed by Police During Car Chase

NEWARK (AP)—Police shot and killed a Mansfield boy early today as he fled from a stolen car.

Chief Lester L. Hall said Fred Johnson, about 16, died in Newark City Hospital. Four Newark policemen fired 14 shots at him after he jumped from the car, allowing it to ram a police cruiser.

Only one bullet hit Johnson. Chief Hall said. He said the boy escaped several weeks ago from a detention home in Mansfield, apparently stole a car there and drove to Mount Vernon Wednesday night. There, he abandoned the car and took another. Chief Hall said two police cruisers cornered Johnson about four blocks from the center of Newark, but he jumped from the car while it was still moving.

Moonshine Sampled During Court Trial

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A court jury sniffed and sipped of moonshine Wednesday and convicted a man accused of possessing a five-gallon jug of the stuff on which no tax had been paid.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Robert Nunez and Revenue Agent Oliver Sills laboriously upended the jug to pour samples into a paper cup.

The cup was passed around, some taking a smell, others a sip.

Federal Judge W. J. Barker commented from the bench: "If you want a chaser, gentlemen, we will supply you with that."

Los Alamos, N. M., where the atomic bomb was developed, was merely an isolated mountain school for boys in 1941.

Educator Says U. S. Cannot 'Decree' Study

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — The federal government "cannot decree the study of science," Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation, said today.

"Perhaps it should not bribe people to do so," he told the annual meeting of the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Speaking 12 hours after President Eisenhower told the nation America must produce more scientists to keep pace with Soviet Russia's scientific advances, Heald said there is much discussion about the American lag in science and technology.

"Scientists cannot be made overnight with any amount of money," he said. "They must be produced by the American school system. Curriculum decisions are made at the local level.

"A greater recognition of the importance of mathematics and science in the high schools will result in revision of requirements and procedures. This can be influenced by state superintendents."

Little Theater Meeting Nov. 22

Everyone Interested Invited To Attend

The Community Players— a little theater group formed here for the "pursuit of the drama"— will hold its second general meeting Nov. 22 at 8 p. m. in the Cherry Hotel.

The date and place was set by the directors at their meeting Wednesday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Lawyer.

The coming general meeting, it was said, is for the purpose of giving the group a "more vivid and detailed analysis" of the three-act comedy, "His and Hers," the Community Players will present in the spring. The play was written by Fay and Michael Kanin.

Mrs. Thomas Gormley, who will direct the group's first production, also will give background information on the play, the characters and the roles they will play.

* * *

AFTER Wednesday night's meeting, it was announced that "everyone interested is urged to attend the Nov. 22 meeting because membership in the group will be closed then until after the first of next year.

There are about 20 in the group now. It was formed early last fall and, while the directors have held several meetings, the Nov. 22 meeting will be the second for the entire group.

The board is made up of the officers chosen at the organization meeting: Hal Summers, president; Thomas Gormley, vice president; Mrs. Lawyer, recording secretary; Miss Helen Slavens, corresponding secretary; and Don Kiser, treasurer.

3-Way Cross Best For Market Pigs Class Concludes

The young and adult farmers class at Jeffersonville concluded that "a three-way cross is best for producing market pigs," following a discussion of "Breeding of Swine," the subject taken up at this week's meeting, Ralph Fordyce, the teacher, said.

At next week's meeting the class will study "Feeding the Sow or Gilt During the Gestation Period" and "Balancing and Formulating Rations."

Ham sandwiches, doughnuts, milk or coffee were served after the class was dismissed.

likening the situation then to the Russian threat today.

"We shall not make that mistake again," he declared.

Eisenhower's assertion that defense spending on missiles and other weapons of the future must be hiked by "a very considerable figure" quite likely killed hopes for a tax cut next year.

After outlining some individual and specific costs, the President said: "There has been much discussion lately about whether Soviet technological break-throughs in particular areas may have suddenly exposed us to immediately increased danger.

"As I pointed out last week, this is not the case. But these accomplishments have provided us all with renewed evidence of Soviet competence in science and techniques important to modern warfare. We must, and do, regard this as a time for another critical reexamination of our entire defense system."

In his address, the President indicated some areas in which increased spending loomed:

1. The stepped-up dispersal of Strategic Air Command bases.
2. Improvements of the warning system for any enemy attack.
3. Development of an active missile defense against missiles.
4. Additional money where needed in the development of long-range missiles.
5. A pay raise for military personnel.

Deaths, Funerals

Thomas E. Woodruff

Thomas E. Woodruff, 77, died at 5:30 a. m. Thursday in the Hurles Rest Home, 716 Clinton Ave., where he had been a patient about three months.

A native of Pike County, he moved here when he was 20 years old.

He spent most of his life in the Jeffersonville area, where he farmed for many years.

Survivors include his wife, Nellie, of Jeffersonville; five sons, Elza, of Washington C. H., Donald and David of Columbus, Dean of Biloxi, Miss., and Clair, of Indiana; two daughters, Mrs. Rachael Rockwell of Lima and Miss Phyllis Woodruff of Dayton; two brothers, Dill of Washington C. H. and Earl of Plain City; and two sisters, Miss Margaret of Washington C. H. and Miss Alma of Cleveland.

Friends may call after 7 p. m. Thursday at the Parrett Funeral Home, where services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday. The Rev. Berry Kennedy of the South Side Church of Christ will officiate.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Jeffersonville.

MRS. MARGARET WALLACE —Services were held for Mrs. Margaret Wallace at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home in New Holland at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Wallace died at 12:30 p. m. in the Chillicothe hospital Sunday. She had been a patient there for two weeks. Services were conducted by the Rev. Glenn Robinson, pastor of the New Holland Methodist Church.

Pallbearers were David Long, Clarence Fox, Leonard and Ray Reisinger, William Hoskins and Fred McCoy.

Burial was in Springlawn Cemetery, Williamsport.

Boy, 16, Accused Of Aiding Thugs

PAINESVILLE (AP)—FBI agents have arrested 16-year-old Allen R. Francis of Concord Township and charged him with aiding the three robbers who took $27,000 in a holdup of the Andover Bank Oct. 25.

Special Agent W. A. Murphy said the youth is accused of stealing an automobile in nearby Mentor the night before the bank robbery, and turning it over to the trio for their use in the crime. It was found near Lake Pymatuning a few hours after the holdup.

Murphy said the robbers had agreed to pay Francis for getting the car for them. The youth was not accused of taking part in the Andover robbery.

Reno's Worker Photo Law Being Expanded

RENO (AP) — The City Council listened patiently to complaints that an ordinance requiring the photographing for work permits of Chinese employed in gambling houses was discriminatory.

So it passed a new ordinance requiring that everyone be photographed.

Vets Administration Chieftain Resigns Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harvey V. Higley has resigned as veterans administrator.

President Eisenhower accepted the resignation late Wednesday "with reluctance and a very real sense of loss."

Higley's letter gave assigned no reason for his move, but it was learned that he told the White House in September he wanted to go back to private life.

Defendant Asks Gag, Judge Obliges

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Maricopa County Judge Fred J. Hyder warned the defendant in an arson trial Wednesday to keep silent.

But James Van de la Bogart, 65, of Mesa, Ariz., continued to interrupt court proceedings with loud cries of "I'm being railroaded. I demand my rights."

Judge Hyder issued another warning.

Van de la Bogart yelled back, "Why don't you gag me?"

Judge Hyder answered by instructing Sheriff's Deputy Kenneth Love to put a dish towel over the defendant's mouth.

The gag stayed there until a jury was selected.

Defense Aide Sees Need for Tighter Setup

CINCINNATI (AP) — Reuben B. Robertson Jr., former deputy secretary of defense, declared here Wednesday night that the United States must further tighten and streamline the command structures in its defense program.

Those jobs, Robertson said, involve continental defense, tactical forces, support forces, research and development for the future and cooperation with allies in mutual defense efforts.

Robertson asserted that "in the urgent missile fields there is no reason whatsoever to believe that we are behind." He added that in the satellite area "it is obvious we are not ahead."

"Our present military compensation system must be revised to provide rewards for merit and performance rather than longevity," he said. "Certain inequities in our pay system must be cleaned up."

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — One U. S. Marine was convicted and another acquitted today as the Navy began trials of 16 Leathernecks accused of brutality to brig prisoners at Sasebo Naval Base.

Cpl. Glenn W. Fredericks, 21, Fleetmute, Alaska, was sentenced to 14 days at hard labor and reduced to private rank for punching a sailor while Fredericks was on guard duty in the Navy brig at the south Japan Navy base.

A similar charge against Cpl. Dayton W. Dierkson, 21, St. Lawrence, S. D., was dropped when the complainant told the court he could not remember being hit by Dierkson. The Marine is due for discharge Friday.

Gas Rate Study

trial customers and $572 more from governmental authorities.

* * *

THE COMPANY'S rate proposal, which its representatives said has been accepted by 47 of the 61 municipalities served by DP&L, sets up the following charges:

(1) A $1.00 minimum charge for the first 500 cubic feet. (This represents no change from the present schedule).

(2) Eight cents per hundred for the next 2,500 cubic feet. (This is one cent more per hundred than at present).

(3) Seven cents per hundred for the next 3,000 cubic feet. (The present rate is 6½ cents per hundred).

(4) Six and a half cents per hundred for all gas used over 6,000 cubic feet per month. (The present rate is 6 cents per hundred).

There would be no change in the present commercial rate.

* * *

ACCORDING to PUCO accountants the "high average" gas bill for a six-room home would increase $2.10 (from $25.10 to $27.20) under the proposed rate schedule.

A $10.10 monthly bill would go up to $10.95, and a $37.10 charge would go up to $40.20. Other increases would be in proportion.

Councilmen will make a further detailed study of the report, which was prepared without cost to the city, before deciding upon a course of action.

Some Navy Men But Not All, To Leave Pole Soon

MCMURDO SOUND (AP) — The Navy's "old explorers," veterans of the long dark winter in the antarctic, were told today some but not all of them might get out by Christmas.

Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, Navy commander in the antarctic, told the men due for rotation they could leave any time their one-year assignments are up and their jobs completed, if weather and ice conditions permits planes and ships to take them out.

Nineteen veterans of the recently ended polar winter have left. More than 60 others remain.

Dufek said two Navy ships are due to leave New Zealand Nov. 22 with supplies for the U.S. stations at Little America and McMurdo Sound. They will take out some veterans and others will be flown home, the admiral said.

Whitehall Man Held as Bank Thug

The Federal Bureau of Investigation identified him as Bill Evan Sparks of Whitehall.

Federal agents said he admitted he was the "Ivy League bandit" who robbed the bank.

The FBI said he was arrested at his home late Wednesday afternoon and arraigned on bank robbery charges before U. S. Commissioner Robert Newlon.

Dentist Drill Removed From Lung; Suit Filed

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Charles Frye Jr., who says he had to undergo surgery for removal of a dentist's drill which became disengaged and went down his throat has sued the dentist for $75,000.

The suit, filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court, named Dr. A. F. Winter of Logan, W. Va. Frye said the drill lodged in his left lung.

Procrastinators Name '56 Queen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Procrastinators Club of America, dedicated to doing-it-later, has finally crowned its 1956 queen.

She's 17-year-old Beth Swinand, who, like the other club members, believes it's better to do tomorrow what you might have done today. Lester Waas, 37-year-old head of the club, says procrastination is relaxing, healthful and leads to success in life.

The club is planning a Christmas party — for April or thereabouts. Members postponed a decision on the exact date.

Willie Mays Denied House Due to Color

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays' attempt to buy a house here failed Wednesday because he is a Negro.

The spectacular 27-year-old San Francisco Giants centerfielder offered the $37,500 the owner asked for a new house, but was turned down after a wait of several days. The owner said there was great neighborhood pressure against the deal.

Walter A. Gnesdiloff, who is still offering the house at the same price — but not to Mays—said:

"I'm just a union working man and I'd never get another job if I sold this house to that baseball player. I feel sorry for him, and if the neighbors say it would be OK I'd do it."

Gnesdiloff, a small-scale builder and contractor in the upper middle class area, said two property owners he works for put pressure on him not to sell to Mays and neighbors objected by telephone.

"I've never been through this kind of stuff and I'm not even mad about it now," the normally exuberant Mays said.

Mays' wife, Marguerite, wasn't quite as philosophical about it.

"Down in Alabama where we come from," she said, "you know your place, and that's something, at least. But up here it's all a lot of camouflage. They grin in your face and then deceive you."

Mansfield Boy, 16, Killed by Police During Car Chase

NEWARK (AP)—Police shot and killed a Mansfield boy early today as he fled from a stolen car.

Chief Lester L. Hall said Fred Johnson, about 16, died in Newark City Hospital. Four Newark policemen fired 14 shots at him after he jumped from the car, allowing it to ram a police cruiser.

Only one bullet hit Johnson. Chief Hall said. He said the boy escaped several weeks ago from a detention home in Mansfield, apparently stole a car there and drove to Mount Vernon Wednesday night. There, he abandoned the car and took another. Chief Hall said two police cruisers cornered Johnson about four blocks from the center of Newark, but he jumped from the car while it was still moving.

Moonshine Sampled During Court Trial

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A court jury sniffed and sipped of moonshine Wednesday and convicted a man accused of possessing a five-gallon jug of the stuff on which no tax had been paid.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Robert Nunez and Revenue Agent Oliver Sills laboriously upended the jug to pour samples into a paper cup.

The cup was passed around, some taking a smell, others a sip.

Federal Judge W. J. Barker commented from the bench: "If you want a chaser, gentlemen, we will supply you with that."

Los Alamos, N. M., where the atomic bomb was developed, was merely an isolated mountain school for boys in 1941.

Educator Says U. S. Cannot 'Decree' Study

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — The federal government "cannot decree the study of science," Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation, said today.

"Perhaps it should not bribe people to do so," he told the annual meeting of the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Speaking 12 hours after President Eisenhower told the nation America must produce more scientists to keep pace with Soviet Russia's scientific advances, Heald said there is much discussion about the American lag in science and technology.

"Scientists cannot be made overnight with any amount of money," he said. "They must be produced by the American school system. Curriculum decisions are made at the local level.

"A greater recognition of the importance of mathematics and science in the high schools will result in revision of requirements and procedures. This can be influenced by state superintendents."

People's Confidence Must Be Maintained

There is much talk in this nation regarding the need for industry and science to speed up their programs if the United States is to maintain the leading position in the world, especially in view of reported advances Russia has been making.

Industry, as well as science, must maintain the support and confidence of the American people if the future technological demands of the nation are to be met.

This warning has come recently from Samuel G. Baker, general manager of the Du Pont Company's Organic Chemicals Department before a personnel management conference when he said, "Technological change is the way we achieve human progress."

It appears true that in America technological moves have given our country both the leisure and the means to indulge in cultural and spiritual pursuits on a scale heretofore unprecedented in modern civilization.

Touching on this Baker said, "We have more hospitals, churches, schools, art museums, universities, libraries, theaters, concert halls, and parks and playgrounds than any country on earth. We have more doctors, educators, welfare workers, nurses, actors, musicians, and entertainers.

"We have them," he said, "not because we want them more than the people of other countries, but because we are able to produce enough to make them possible . . . .To the extent that the past is a guide to the future, and to the extent that we can win public understanding against the public and private assaults that are being made upon us, there is every reason to believe that we in the United States will be able to meet the challenge of an accelerated rate of technological change."

As evidence of the need, Baker pointed out that if the trends of the past 80 years continue, the anticipated 216 million U. S. population 20 years hence will demand twice the goods and services available today with a work force only about one-third larger than it is today.

Baker emphasized that "we in industry have an obligation to present the truth as we see it and to help people understand that this is the system which has been responsible for remarkable human progress through technological change."

We have an obligation to demonstrate, he said, that "a nation as large as we are needs companies of all sizes — large and small, and medium— to fill the needs of our people in accord with the dimensions of technological change which are taking place.

"Our whole history," Mr. Baker concluded, "is the story of an expanding population matched and exceeded by expanding out - put. Our steadily rising living standards are the fruits of our incentive and productive genius. Nowhere has the dimension of technological change brought such spectacular gains as in the United States. Meeting our country's needs in the years to come means providing the environment and incentives for continued invention and development."

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration—judging from President Eisenhower's two nationwide talks—was caught napping by the Russians.

Either that, or it needed two Sputniks to get it moving.

For weeks the administration had been working on the budget—the cost of running the country—which he will present to Congress in January.

There had been no talk of increased spending for defense or of a rush in missile and satellite development.

Then the Russians fired their Sputniks, ample testimony to the amazing progress they have made in satellites, in rockets to propel them, and in the industrial ability to produce them.

Eisenhower took to the air a week ago to reassure the country it was in no immediate danger.

But as evidence of his realization of the need for speed, he appointed a special assistant to push scientific, satellite and missile development.

And in his nationwide talk Wednesday night he called for heavier spending on defense. How much? He didn't say. Will taxes have to go up in 1958? He didn't say. One thing seems sure: they won't be coming down.

He talked of the need — as at least part of the means for meeting increased defense costs — for cutting down on the spending on domestic programs.

If he was vague on costs, it's understandable. His administration presumably was at work on a pre-Sputnik kind of budget but now, after the Sputniks, is in a scramble to revise its thinking.

Between now and the time the budget finally is unveiled before Congress, this country may be treated to a campaign of conditioning to get it ready for the spending ahead.

And since the whole country was startled by the Sputniks—and members of Congress already are talking of willingness to increase defense spending—the administration shouldn't have much trouble selling its program.

Eyesight Specialist Helps Slow Readers

By HEKMAN N. BUNDESEN

It would be quite a job. Most persons who purchase newspapers read the main news stories, some of the features (this column among them, I hope!), the ads and the comics.

But, if you wanted to read a newspaper all the way through, how long would it take? Believe it or not, a study of this has been made.

The average 40-page newspaper contains about 150,000 words. It would take the average reader some 10 hours to read every one of them. A superior reader could complete the task in about six hours. Many of us, unfortunately, are not superior or even average readers. For those who are really slow readers it would take 16 hours or more.

This brings up the particular point I want to make:

While I don't expect you to sit down and read every work in this newspaper, I do think many of you could speed up your reading and comprehension.

Three out of every five Americans read at a lumbering pace, about 250 words per minute, or only a little faster than they speak. Even so, they comprehend only about three-fourths of what they read.

As you read this column, your eyes make a series of stops. Just how many stops depends upon the number of words you eyes can seize at each fixation.

If you're a slow reader (150 words or less per minute) your eyes stop at almost every word and you will tire quickly. A faster reader takes in several words at each brief pause.

Just about all of us could speed up our reading with the help of an eyesight specialist. In some instances, a visual effect might be one of the causes for slow reading ability.

If you have any reading difficulty, better see an eye specialist.

Answer: In your particular case since you have had bleeding and have not responded to the medical management of your ulcer, surgery probably would be the best choice.

Home County Endorses Mayor Sensenbrenner

Success Brings Some Dangers

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Marlon Brando, at 32 a figure of world recognition, is an actor in search of his life role.

He has been phenomenally successful. He says this about the impact of success on him:

"I have not been so impressed so much by how I have changed as I have been by other people's attitudes toward me."

Brando is a full-lipped, short-haired, wide-hipped man who in a few short years has become perhaps the most acclaimed actor since John Barrymore, gifted with a talent as recognized among fellow actors as by the public.

In his 11th film, "Sayonara," he plays a young American jet flier who discovers, for him at least, that it is better to marry the Japanese girl he loves than to leave her behind. He is a Southerner. The theme of the film is how love can rise above race prejudice.

The picture is based on the novel by James Michener. There are rumors around that Brando himself may make a million dollars from the film.

He says aside from money that Hollywood has done itself and America a disservice because too often it is potentially the best possible instrument of communication with foreign people—but has failed to communicate.

"The time has come when the people abroad are not disposed to take foreign snobbery any longer from anybody," he said.

"It behooves us to do what we can to improve our relations with other people who, in a short time, we may find our lives interdependent with."

After an overseas stint during which he made two pictures in Japan and toured southeast Asia, Brando feels that people in those areas judge America by its movies and that the movies, by more realistic dramas about world problems and prejudices, can improve mutual understanding and fare well also at the box office.

"It's a lack of experience with other people that makes them seem strange," he said.

Brando himself has made one kind of adjustment to a fame that has been spectacular, but even among his fellow actors is accepted as well earned by talent and performance.

"I have given up stating the pros and cons about myself," he said. "I'd just as soo nlet people come to their own conclusions and let it go at that."

Asked how success had affected his life, he said:

"It's a dangerous position from the standpoint of maintaining a sensible perspective on yourself in relation to other people.

"People hate you for no other reason than that you are successful, and they like you for no other reason."

Is Ike Sinking in Public Esteem?

By George Sokolsky

When a political party ceases to represent a body of principles and becomes the appendage of one man, it loses its special characteristic and its vitality diminishes the moment the extraordinary man's unique popularity lessens.

That is precisely what is now the status of the Republican party which has shifted from the economic and social conservatism which had been its characteristic to adulation of Dwight D. Eisenhower who, while heroic as a soldier, has proved himself to be a doubtful executive in civil administration and altogether incapable of grasping the essentials of American political life and institutions.

Other leadership than Eisenhower's has not appeared in Republican ranks, although such men as Vice President Richard Nixon, Sen. William Knowland, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Sen. Styles Bridges are making some mark upon the country.

Vice President Nixon is currently the principal aspirant for the presidential nomination in 1960, although it must be noted that Harold Stassen is always an aspirant. Nixon's difficulty is that he had been regarded by the Taft Republicans as one of them; he has come to be regarded as a White House spokesman. With what agility he will cross that bridge is to be seen.

The Taft Republicans would prefer Knowland for the presidency, but they are convinced that Knowland's present arrangement is something like the Taft-Dewey arrangements in 1948, namely whoever was in the lead would support the other. Dewey was in the lead in that year; in 1952, Dewey should have supported Taft.

Had Taft been elected in 1952, there can be little doubt but that Knowland would have been vice president and therefore Taft's successor when Taft died. Politicians have long memories and although most of them are opportunists, their disappointments rankle.

Knowland knows what the arrangements for 1952 were; he also knows that it was Earl Warren who was playing cute politics with the controlled unit - rule, California delegation in that convention. In the 1960 Republican convention, it will be Knowland who will control and vote the California delegation if he is elected governor.

Eisenhower has suffered as a politician because he delegated the party politics phase of his career to Sherman Adams, a small town Yankee from New Hampshire who became mayor of the palace and the enemy of all pre-1952 Republicans.

The effects are visible in the disastrous defeat of a pro-Eisenhower candidate for senator in Wisconsin; the defeat of a pro-Eisenhower candidate for governor in New Jersey; the inability of the Republican party in New York City to find a candidate for mayor and when they finally got one, he suffered a disastrous defeat.

It will be equally difficult to elect a Republican governor in New York State not because Averell Harriman has made such a brilliant record but because the Republicans are selfishly divided. It has ceased to be a political party in New York State and has become a congeries of personalities.

New York and California represent the strength of the Republican party. In New York, the Negro vote must be courted; but that vote is now largely Democratic and has remained so in the mayoralty election. Besides the local Democrats are more competent courtiers than the Republicans because they have more to give in the way of state and municipal jobs and honors. President Eisenhower would have to appoint a Negro to the Cabinet or the Supreme Court to make a real impression among the Negroes and Puerto Ricans in this part of the country. Voting in New York is strictly on a personal basis as the oppositional effectiveness of the Republican party no longer exists.

Nevertheless a party in opposition must exist in the United States if we are not to have the tyranny of a one-party monopoly as in Soviet Russia or the confusion of multitudinious parties as in France. President Eisenhower was elected in 1952 and in 1956 strictly on his personality. That sunny personality cannot stand the test of hard times or of disappointments.

It does not posses the flexibility of a Franklin D. Roosevelt nor that master's manipulative skill; nor is it without conscience as Roosevelt's was.

There fore the Eisenhower personlity is sinking in popular esteem. It is now evident that a Democrat could be elected in 1960. When Congress reassembles it will act accordingly, as it always does.

106-114 W. COURT ST. ELLET KAUFMAN, PROP. SINCE 1914

People's Confidence Must Be Maintained

There is much talk in this nation regarding the need for industry and science to speed up their programs if the United States is to maintain the leading position in the world, especially in view of reported advances Russia has been making.

Industry, as well as science, must maintain the support and confidence of the American people if the future technological demands of the nation are to be met.

This warning has come recently from Samuel G. Baker, general manager of the Du Pont Company's Organic Chemicals Department before a personnel management conference when he said, "Technological change is the way we achieve human progress."

It appears true that in America technological moves have given our country both the leisure and the means to indulge in cultural and spiritual pursuits on a scale heretofore unprecedented in modern civilization.

Touching on this Baker said, "We have more hospitals, churches, schools, art museums, universities, libraries, theaters, concert halls, and parks and playgrounds than any country on earth. We have more doctors, educators, welfare workers, nurses, actors, musicians, and entertainers.

"We have them," he said, "not because we want them more than the people of other countries, but because we are able to produce enough to make them possible . . . .To the extent that the past is a guide to the future, and to the extent that we can win public understanding against the public and private assaults that are being made upon us, there is every reason to believe that we in the United States will be able to meet the challenge of an accelerated rate of technological change."

As evidence of the need, Baker pointed out that if the trends of the past 80 years continue, the anticipated 216 million U. S. population 20 years hence will demand twice the goods and services available today with a work force only about one-third larger than it is today.

Baker emphasized that "we in industry have an obligation to present the truth as we see it and to help people understand that this is the system which has been responsible for remarkable human progress through technological change."

We have an obligation to demonstrate, he said, that "a nation as large as we are needs companies of all sizes — large and small, and medium— to fill the needs of our people in accord with the dimensions of technological change which are taking place.

"Our whole history," Mr. Baker concluded, "is the story of an expanding population matched and exceeded by expanding out - put. Our steadily rising living standards are the fruits of our incentive and productive genius. Nowhere has the dimension of technological change brought such spectacular gains as in the United States. Meeting our country's needs in the years to come means providing the environment and incentives for continued invention and development."

Success Brings Some Dangers

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Marlon Brando, at 32 a figure of world recognition, is an actor in search of his life role.

He has been phenomenally successful. He says this about the impact of success on him:

"I have not been so impressed so much by how I have changed as I have been by other people's attitudes toward me."

Brando is a full-lipped, short-haired, wide-hipped man who in a few short years has become perhaps the most acclaimed actor since John Barrymore, gifted with a talent as recognized among fellow actors as by the public.

In his 11th film, "Sayonara," he plays a young American jet flier who discovers, for him at least, that it is better to marry the Japanese girl he loves than to leave her behind. He is a Southerner. The theme of the film is how love can rise above race prejudice.

The picture is based on the novel by James Michener. There are rumors around that Brando himself may make a million dollars from the film.

He says aside from money that Hollywood has done itself and America a disservice because too often it is potentially the best possible instrument of communication with foreign people—but has failed to communicate.

"The time has come when the people abroad are not disposed to take foreign snobbery any longer from anybody," he said.

"It behooves us to do what we can to improve our relations with other people who, in a short time, we may find our lives interdependent with."

After an overseas stint during which he made two pictures in Japan and toured southeast Asia, Brando feels that people in those areas judge America by its movies and that the movies, by more realistic dramas about world problems and prejudices, can improve mutual understanding and fare well also at the box office.

"It's a lack of experience with other people that makes them seem strange," he said.

Brando himself has made one kind of adjustment to a fame that has been spectacular, but even among his fellow actors is accepted as well earned by talent and performance.

"I have given up stating the pros and cons about myself," he said. "I'd just as soo nlet people come to their own conclusions and let it go at that."

Asked how success had affected his life, he said:

"It's a dangerous position from the standpoint of maintaining a sensible perspective on yourself in relation to other people.

"People hate you for no other reason than that you are successful, and they like you for no other reason."

By George Sokolsky

When a political party ceases to represent a body of principles and becomes the appendage of one man, it loses its special characteristic and its vitality diminishes the moment the extraordinary man's unique popularity lessens.

That is precisely what is now the status of the Republican party which has shifted from the economic and social conservatism which had been its characteristic to adulation of Dwight D. Eisenhower who, while heroic as a soldier, has proved himself to be a doubtful executive in civil administration and altogether incapable of grasping the essentials of American political life and institutions.

Other leadership than Eisenhower's has not appeared in Republican ranks, although such men as Vice President Richard Nixon, Sen. William Knowland, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Sen. Styles Bridges are making some mark upon the country.

Vice President Nixon is currently the principal aspirant for the presidential nomination in 1960, although it must be noted that Harold Stassen is always an aspirant. Nixon's difficulty is that he had been regarded by the Taft Republicans as one of them; he has come to be regarded as a White House spokesman. With what agility he will cross that bridge is to be seen.

The Taft Republicans would prefer Knowland for the presidency, but they are convinced that Knowland's present arrangement is something like the Taft-Dewey arrangements in 1948, namely whoever was in the lead would support the other. Dewey was in the lead in that year; in 1952, Dewey should have supported Taft.

Had Taft been elected in 1952, there can be little doubt but that Knowland would have been vice president and therefore Taft's successor when Taft died. Politicians have long memories and although most of them are opportunists, their disappointments rankle.

Knowland knows what the arrangements for 1952 were; he also knows that it was Earl Warren who was playing cute politics with the controlled unit - rule, California delegation in that convention. In the 1960 Republican convention, it will be Knowland who will control and vote the California delegation if he is elected governor.

Eisenhower has suffered as a politician because he delegated the party politics phase of his career to Sherman Adams, a small town Yankee from New Hampshire who became mayor of the palace and the enemy of all pre-1952 Republicans.

The effects are visible in the disastrous defeat of a pro-Eisenhower candidate for senator in Wisconsin; the defeat of a pro-Eisenhower candidate for governor in New Jersey; the inability of the Republican party in New York City to find a candidate for mayor and when they finally got one, he suffered a disastrous defeat.

It will be equally difficult to elect a Republican governor in New York State not because Averell Harriman has made such a brilliant record but because the Republicans are selfishly divided. It has ceased to be a political party in New York State and has become a congeries of personalities.

New York and California represent the strength of the Republican party. In New York, the Negro vote must be courted; but that vote is now largely Democratic and has remained so in the mayoralty election. Besides the local Democrats are more competent courtiers than the Republicans because they have more to give in the way of state and municipal jobs and honors. President Eisenhower would have to appoint a Negro to the Cabinet or the Supreme Court to make a real impression among the Negroes and Puerto Ricans in this part of the country. Voting in New York is strictly on a personal basis as the oppositional effectiveness of the Republican party no longer exists.

Nevertheless a party in opposition must exist in the United States if we are not to have the tyranny of a one-party monopoly as in Soviet Russia or the confusion of multitudinious parties as in France. President Eisenhower was elected in 1952 and in 1956 strictly on his personality. That sunny personality cannot stand the test of hard times or of disappointments.

It does not posses the flexibility of a Franklin D. Roosevelt nor that master's manipulative skill; nor is it without conscience as Roosevelt's was.

There fore the Eisenhower personlity is sinking in popular esteem. It is now evident that a Democrat could be elected in 1960. When Congress reassembles it will act accordingly, as it always does.

Eyesight Specialist Helps Slow Readers

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

It would be quite a job. Most persons who purchase newspapers read the main news stories, some of the features (this column among them, I hope!), the ads and the comics.

But, if you wanted to read a newspaper all the way through, how long would it take? Believe it or not, a study of this has been made.

The average 40-page newspaper contains about 150,000 words. It would take the average reader some 10 hours to read every one of them. A superior reader could complete the task in about six hours. Many of us, unfortunately, are not superior or even average readers. For those who are really slow readers it would take 16 hours or more.

This brings up the particular point I want to make:

While I don't expect you to sit down and read every work in this newspaper, I do think many of you could speed up your reading and comprehension.

Three out of every five Americans read at a lumbering pace, about 250 words per minute, or only a little faster than they speak. Even so, they comprehend only about three-fourths of what they read.

As you read this column, your eyes make a series of stops. Just how many stops depends upon the number of words you eyes can seize at each fixation.

If you're a slow reader (150 words or less per minute) your eyes stop at almost every word and you will tire quickly. A faster reader takes in several words at each brief pause.

Just about all of us could speed up our reading with the help of an eyesight specialist. In some instances, a visual effect might be one of the causes for slow reading ability.

If you have any reading difficulty, better see an eye specialist.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. K.: I have a severe duodenal ulcer which has bled on four occasions. I am 44. Is an operation necessary?

Answer: In your particular case since you have had bleeding and have not responded to the medical management of your ulcer, surgery probably would be the best choice.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration—judging from President Eisenhower's two nationwide talks—was caught napping by the Russians.

Either that, or it needed two Sputniks to get it moving.

For weeks the administration had been working on the budget—the cost of running the country—which he will present to Congress in January.

There had been no talk of increased spending for defense or of a rush in missile and satellite development.

Then the Russians fired their Sputniks, ample testimony to the amazing progress they have made in satellites, in rockets to propel them, and in the industrial ability to produce them.

Eisenhower took to the air a week ago to reassure the country it was in no immediate danger.

But as evidence of his realization of the need for speed, he appointed a special assistant to push scientific, satellite and missile development.

And in his nationwide talk Wednesday night he called for heavier spending on defense. How much? He didn't say. Will taxes have to go up in 1958? He didn't say. One thing seems sure: they won't be coming down.

He talked of the need — as at least part of the means for meeting increased defense costs — for cutting down on the spending on domestic programs.

If he was vague on costs, it's understandable. His administration presumably was at work on a pre-Sputnik kind of budget but now, after the Sputniks, is in a scramble to revise its thinking.

Between now and the time the budget finally is unveiled before Congress, this country may be treated to a campaign of conditioning to get it ready for the spending ahead.

And since the whole country was startled by the Sputniks—and members of Congress already are talking of willingness to increase defense spending—the administration shouldn't have much trouble selling its program.

DEBS Appoint Officers Tuesday

Mrs. Elza Woodruff was elected president of the Diet Easily But Safely Club at its meeting Tuesday night in the Farm Bureau Auditorium. Other officers are Mrs. Howard Thompson, vice president; Mrs. Bill Dawes, secretary, and Mrs. Howard Bryant, treasurer.

Guest speaker was Miss Jane Jefferson, dietician at Fayette County Memorial Hospital. In bringing the major considerations of the field of nutrition toward weight control, Miss Jefferson reviewed the book entitled "Food Becomes You." She pointed out that every cell in the human body is the result of the food intake. Miss Jefferson suggested a daily food plan which includes the basic type of foods which should be included in the diet in order to be certain of the necessary minerals and vitamins.

The "DEBS" took weight and measurements so that they may measure their progress during the ensuing months.

The next meeting has been set for Tuesday, Dec. 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the Farm Bureau Auditorium.

DEBS Appoint Officers Tuesday

Mrs. Elza Woodruff was elected president of the Diet Easily But Safely Club at its meeting Tuesday night in the Farm Bureau Auditorium. Other officers are Mrs. Howard Thompson, vice president; Mrs. Bill Dawes, secretary, and Mrs. Howard Bryant, treasurer.

Guest speaker was Miss Jane Jefferson, dietician at Fayette County Memorial Hospital. In bringing the major considerations of the field of nutrition toward weight control, Miss Jefferson reviewed the book entitled "Food Becomes You." She pointed out that every cell in the human body is the result of the food intake. Miss Jefferson suggested a daily food plan which includes the basic type of foods which should be included in the diet in order to be certain of the necessary minerals and vitamins.

The "DEBS" took weight and measurements so that they may measure their progress during the ensuing months.

The next meeting has been set for Tuesday, Dec. 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the Farm Bureau Auditorium.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

When hunters take to the fields Friday they will find more pheasants in Fayette County than ever before, according to reports from various parts of the county and my personal observation in nearly every township in the county.

I have seen as many as six cock pheasants in a single group and others in twos, threes, fours and fives at many points.

I was told by one farmer that he knew of 36 on his premises, and many of them came up to the feed lot to get corn given to hogs and chickens. Yes, you are right—he prohibits hunting on his farm.

Apparently this has been a wonderful season for pheasants, and they are abundant in nearly all parts of the county, so that first hunters on the ground should have no difficulty in bagging the limit.

Some farmers charge a fee for hunters to enter their premises, and one man who has 1,400 acres in southwestern Fayette County and Clinton County permits hunting at $1 per day.

This is about the fee charged by a few other farmers I have heard of who charge for the privilege.

A large number of farms are posted, and the owners have thereby served notice that those disregarding the notice will be arrested for trespassing.

However it is not necessary for a farm to be posted, for anyone who enters upon the property of another person is liable to arrest and fine for trespassing—particulary when he does so to hunt.

* * *

FALL PLOWING UNDER WAY

I have noticed at several points in the county fall plowing has been started, and this work will be carried forward by a large number of farmers if the weather continues favorable during the next few weeks.

Fall plowing was hardly heard of 40 years ago, but when it was launched, and results were so satisfactory, the practice became standard, and now by the time the usual spring plowing comes, a great deal of the earth has been turned. Such plowed ground has the benefit of freezing and thawing until it is ready to be conditioned for spring planting.

When weather is favorable, more than half of the plowing is done well before planting time, and in this way farmers generally are well abreast of their spring work.

* * *

PHEASANTS TAKE REFUGE

For years it has been known that when the pheasants are hard pressed for their lives, during the hunting season, they take refuse wherever a hiding place can be found.

That is the reason a few years ago a pheasant walked into the Courthouse here and strutted about until he decided to go elsewhere.

In one instance, according to information given to me recently, a man shot and wounded a pheasant. It sought refuge in a groundhog den, and when the man started digging, he found nine pheasants in the hole.

Still another hunter found two pheasants crouching under an old well cover, and others have reported them in hollow trees.

Thus it will be seen that pheasants, frightened by promiscuous shooting, literally "hole up" until the danger is past.

RUSSIANS FOLLOW TIP

In launching "Sputniks" the Russians were in line with information given in June, 1949 in "Science and Appliance pamphlet issued by the Ohio State University Research Foundation.

Here is what the little publication carried in 1949:

"A space ship, held by gravity in a path around the earth 200 miles from the surface, might be launched, according to calculations, at almost five miles per second—up 200 miles.

"At that height the negligible air drag would permit such speed. This man-made satellite could circle the globe in 1.5 hours. It might, presumably, serve as a radar reflector and perhaps as a base for space observations if it could be reached and a take-off made for the return flight. The required velocity might be attained in three or four steps with hydrogene-ozygen rockets."

ILLNESS WAS TOO MUCH

History and folklore record that many of the first residents of Fayette County, who built crude log cabins in the wilderness, were forced to abandon their new homes as result of various types of illness such as "ague," "milk sickness" and kindred ailments.

In one instance an entire colony of well-built log cabins was abandoned in Green Twp., by the occupants, and in other parts of the county the primitive homes were given up as result of illness, due largely to the hordes of mosquitoes, which infested the forests in countless numbers and were malaria fever carriers.

Some of these log cabins were vacant for years before other settlers occupied them and did considerable ditching to drain the surrounding area and thus combat disease.

Also by that time physicians were moving in and did much toward saving lives of many pioneers who fell prey to a variety of ailments which took the lives of early pioneers.

No Plan Afoot To Soften Penalty of Missile Officer

WASHINGTON — The Army's fortunes in the satellite and missile field have changed—but not those of Col. John C. Nickerson.

Nickerson was the officer at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Huntsville, Ala., convicted by a court-martial on charges that he sent unauthorized persons documents containing secret material. The charges grew out of his one-man campaign against limiting Army missile activity.

At Knoxville, Tenn., last week Ray Jenkins, Nickerson's counsel at the court-martial, said the Defense Department order assigning the Army to a place in the satellite field was "complete vindication" for Col. Nickerson.

The Army also has been allowed to continue testing its Jupiter missile, for which Nickerson sought.

A check with the Army headquarters at Washington today indicated that there is no move now contemplated to soften the punishment meted out to Nickerson.

So far as can be determined, he is to continue the assignment as an "inspector of engineering facilities" in the Panama Canal Zone.

The Army ordered him there last August. In doing that, it was ordered that he must have an assignment "not associated with guided missiles or research and development in any way" and that he have access to nothing but the lowest form of classified material, "confidential."

In addition, he was relieved of holding any command position for a period of one year.

Mistrial Results, No Parking Space

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Macon R. Irby, a juror, was fined at the rate of $1 a minute for being in contempt of court. Total fine $15.

Irby explained he was "about 15 minutes" late because he couldn't find a parking place.

The judge then explained why he was levying the fine. Irby's lateness had caused a mistrial in a $1,063 damage suit.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

FELINE FINE—Every night for five years Sam Gallaway, a retired Navy man, has been giving 16 cans of cat food to homeless cats along the Los Angeles waterfront. "I figure they must be having a pretty rough time of it," explains Gallaway. (International)

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

When hunters take to the fields Friday they will find more pheasants in Fayette County than ever before, according to reports from various parts of the county and my personal observation in nearly every township in the county.

I have seen as many as six cock pheasants in a single group and others in twos, threes, fours and fives at many points.

I was told by one farmer that he knew of 36 on his premises, and many of them came up to the feed lot to get corn given to hogs and chickens. Yes, you are right—he prohibits hunting on his farm.

Apparently this has been a wonderful season for pheasants, and they are abundant in nearly all parts of the county, so that first hunters on the ground should have no difficulty in bagging the limit.

Some farmers charge a fee for hunters to enter their premises, and one man who has 1,400 acres in southwestern Fayette County and Clinton County permits hunting at $1 per day.

This is about the fee charged by a few other farmers I have heard of who charge for the privilege.

A large number of farms are posted, and the owners have thereby served notice that those disregarding the notice will be arrested for trespassing.

However it is not necessary for a farm to be posted, for anyone who enters upon the property of another person is liable to arrest and fine for trespassing—particularly when he does so to hunt.

FALL PLOWING UNDER WAY

I have noticed at several points in the county fall plowing has been started, and this work will be carried forward by a large number of farmers if the weather continues favorable during the next few weeks.

Fall plowing was hardly heard of 40 years ago, but when it was launched, and results were so satisfactory, the practice beame standard, and now by the time the usual spring plowing comes, a great deal of the earth has been turned. Such plowed ground has the benefit of freezing and thawing until it is ready to be conditioned for spring planting.

When weather is favorable, more than half of the plowing is done well before planting time, and in this way farmers generally are well abreast of their spring work.

PHEASANTS TAKE REFUGE

For years it has been known that when the pheasants are hard pressed for their lives, during the hunting season, they take refuse wherever a hiding place can be found.

That is the reason a few years ago a pheasant walked into the Courthouse here and strutted about until he decided to go elsewhere.

In one instance, according to information given to me recently, a man shot and wounded a pheasant. It sought refuge in a groundhog den, and when the man started digging, he found nine pheasants in the hole.

Still another hunter found two pheasants crouching under an old well cover, and others have reported them in hollow trees.

Thus it will be seen that pheasants, frightened by promiscuous shooting, literally "hole up" until the danger is past.

RUSSIANS FOLLOW TIP

In launching "Sputniks" the Russians were in line with information given in June, 1949 in "Science and Appliance pamphlet issued by the Ohio State University Research Foundation.

Here is what the little publication carried in 1949:

"A space ship, held by gravity in a path around the earth 200 miles from the surface, might be launched, according to calculations, at almost five miles per second—up 200 miles.

"At that height the negligible air drag would permit such speed. This man-made satellite could circle the globe in 1.5 hours. It might, presumably, serve as a radar reflector and perhaps as a base for space observations if it could be reached and a take-off made for the return flight. The required velocity might be attained in three or four steps with hydrogene-ozygen rockets."

ILLNESS WAS TOO MUCH

History and folklore record that many of the first residents of Fayette County, who built crude log cabins in the wilderness, were forced to abandon their new homes as result of various types of illness such as "ague," "milk sickness" and kindred ailments.

In one instance an entire colony of well-built log cabins was abandoned in Green Twp., by the occupants, and in other parts of the county the primitive homes were given up as result of illness, due largely to the hordes of mosquitoes, which infested the forests in countless numbers and were malaria fever carriers.

Some of these log cabins were vacant for years before other settlers occupied them and did considerable ditching to drain the surrounding area and thus combat disease.

Also by that time physicians were moving in and did much toward saving lives of many pioneers who fell prey to a variety of ailments which took the lives of early pioneers.

No Plan Afoot To Soften Penalty of Missile Officer

WASHINGTON — The Army's fortunes in the satellite and missile field have changed—but not those of Col. John C. Nickerson.

Nickerson was the officer at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Huntsville, Ala., convicted by a court-martial on charges that he sent unauthorized persons documents containing secret material. The charges grew out of his one-man campaign against limiting Army missile activity.

At Knoxville, Tenn., last week Ray Jenkins, Nickerson's counsel at the court-martial, said the Defense Department order assigning the Army to a place in the satellite field was "complete vindication" for Col. Nickerson.

The Army also has been allowed to continue testing its Jupiter missile, for which Nickerson sought.

A check with the Army headquarters at Washington today indicated that there is no move now contemplated to soften the punishment meted out to Nickerson.

So far as can be determined, he is to continue the assignment as an "inspector of engineering facilities" in the Panama Canal Zone.

The Army ordered him there last August. In doing that, it was ordered that he must have an assignment "not associated with guided missiles or research and development in any way" and that he have access to nothing but the lowest form of classified material, "confidential."

In addition, he was relieved of holding any command position for a period of one year.

Mistrial Results, No Parking Space

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Macon R. Irby, a juror, was fined at the rate of $1 a minute for being in contempt of court. Total fine $15.

Irby explained he was "about 15 minutes" late because he couldn't find a parking place.

City's Permit To Discharge Sewage Into Creek Extended Until March 15

The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board has renewed until March 15, 1958, a permit for the discharge of Washington C. H. sewage into Paint Creek, City Council was informed at its regular meeting Wednesday night.

In a letter to City Manager James F. Parkinson the board emphasized that further renewal of the permit is contingent upon compliance with the following conditions:

(1) The city must advertise for bids and award all contracts for construction of proposed sewage treatment plant improvements in accordance with detailed plans approved Sept. 19 of this year;

(2) It must complete needed repairs to interceptor sewers and make certain replacements;

(3) It must provide satisfactory operation and maintenance of the existent sewerage and sewage treatment works, including the regular operating reports and annual summaries as required by the Ohio Department of Health.

* *

ACTUAL START of a Council-approved $533,000 improvement program, including expansion of the sewage treatment plant and partial rehabilitation of the present sewer system has been delayed pending approval of a requested $160,000 federal grant. The balance of the cost would be defrayed by increased revenues from a new sewer rental ordinance along with an existing balance in the sewer fund.

A copy of a letter from the Ohio Department of Health to the Ohio Water Service Co., read to Council, disclosed that a recent series of inspections showed the company's local plant and reservoir were well maintained and commended recent improvements.

Seventeen samples taken from the distribution system, the letter said, showed a satisfactory bacterial analysis and sanitary condition. The report indicated that while raw water tested showed some sediment and turbidity, there was no sediment or turbidity in the treated water.

The treated water showed .05 parts per million of iron and 92 parts per million of hardness.

* * *

COUNCIL APPROVED a resolution expressing its official appreciation "for the excellent and faithful service" of Miss Marie Melvin, city auditor and Council clerk, who will retire Dec. 31 after 11½ years of service.

The resolution thanked Miss Melvin and tendered Council's best wishes. A certified copy of the resolution was ordered delivered to her.

In a routine resolution, Council authorized the First National Bank to make substitutions in federal bonds held as security for the city's safekeeping account.

* * *

EDWARD J. CUNNINGHAM was granted the privileges of the floor to present his views on annexation matters. Cunningham cited the growth of the city's population and observed that more area is needed for expansion residentially and industrially.

He cited the potential ills incurred when population grows outside planned areas and suggested that Council investigate a "sound and logical program of annexation for municipal purposes. Annexation for school purposes is a matter in which the State Board of Education has final authority, he told Council, adding that he feels the recent election showed the desire of a large number of Union Township voters to become a part of the city.

Councilmen told Cunningham that they have given preliminary informal consideration to what they regard as a reasonable annexation program but that their discussions have not yet jelled into a concrete proposal on the subject.

* * *

THE GROUP verbally approved a recommendation that 15 copies of the city code be presented to the Fayette County Law Library Assn. and gave preliminary consideration to contracting for supplements which would bring the codified ordinances up to date.

Joe F. Loudner and James Shoemaker, councilmen-elect, attended the session as observers. Their terms will not begin until Jan. 1.

Fayette Countians Buy 50 New Cars, 18 Trucks in Month

A total of 50 new passenger cars and 18 new trucks were sold to Fayette County residents during October, according to records of the Certificate of Title Office administered by the clerk of courts.

New car registrations include the following: 18 Fords, 12 Chevrolets, four Plymouths, four Mercurys, four Oldsmobiles, two Pontiacs, two Dodges and one each of four other makes.

Twelve new Chevrolet and six new Ford trucks were sold.

Registered here are new vehicles sold to Fayette County residents by dealers both inside and the outside the county. Cars sold by local dealers to persons living outside the county are not registered here.

WHS Senior Play Scheduled For Presentation Nov. 22

The Washington C. H. Senior Class play will be presented the night of Nov. 22 at the school auditorium.

The production will be three-act comedy based on the television show "Our Miss Brooks."

The entire play is set in Miss Brooks' classroom where her students are preparing for a production of "Lost Horizon."

Starring in the title role will be Miss Nancy Wood.

Other seniors with leading parts in the play are Larry Milstead as Hugo Longacre, Jim Wilson as Ted Wilder and Cathy Croker as Jane. Supporting roles are played by Ronnie McCune, Charlotte Ails, Mary Ann Hackett, Wanda Huff, Kristen Himmelspach, Joy Lucas, Mary Agne sHelfrich, Dick Klever, Robert Caplinger, Virginia Shoop, Kathe Wright, Dale Coil and Charilyn Reinke.

Tickets for the play are available from all members of the senior class and may be redeemed for reserved seats at Patton's Book Store.

Mrs. Sally Hagerty, high school dramatics teacher, is directing the play. Proceeds will be used for various Senior Class activities and for a class gift to the school.

Dr. Kirk Makes Brief Visit Here

Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia University, returned Thursday to New York City after spending 24 hours with his mother, Mrs. T. C. Kirk and brother, Willard Kirk, at their farm home near Jeffersonville.

Dr. Kirk arrived Wednesday morning, from Cleveland, where he had addressed an American Education Week meeting, and is scheduled to give another address before an alumni body in New York Thursday night.

One of the nation's outstanding educators, his services as a speaker are very much in demand throughout the nation.

Forger Said Facing Long Prison Stint

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Charles R. Speedie, notorious phony check passer, has been sentenced to 1 to 14 years in prison.

"You probably will serve most of this sentence," Superior Judge Lewis Drucker commented. "Any time you seek parole you will find eight other states want to extradite and prosecute you."

Speedie, arrested Sept. 5 in a Cleveland suburb and known as the "Traveler," passed $300,000 in bogus checks during a 15-year career.

State Fair Chief Seeks Entertainment Advice

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State Fair Manager D. Robert Jones wants to know what kind of entertainment fairgoers want at the 1958 state exposition.

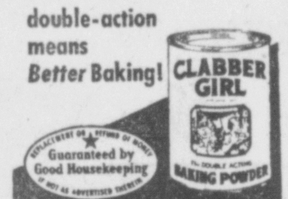

With the fair nine months away, Jones is already looking for name talent for the grandstand and coliseum entertainment programs.

Jones said he would like fairgoers to send him postcards addressed to the Administration Building, Fairgrounds, Columbus, telling him what entertainers they would like to see.

Roving Reporters Find Americans To Be Only Ho-Hum about Sputniks

By SAUL PETT

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — The people in this industrial community of 45,000—"the worst city in the world," as sausage fans know it—read about, talk about, wonder about Soviet satellites, but there is little sign of deep concern.

Mention Sputnik in Sheboygan and the first reaction is a broad grin and frequently a joke.

Among many people, a spot check of opinion showed, there is a refusal to admit that the United States is really behind the Russians in outer space or, if it is, that it will stay behind long.

"I think we're catching up with them but we're just not letting it out," said Mrs. August Miller, a waitress. "What it took them five years to make, we'll probably make in a year."

This same idea—that America is close to or even ahead of the Soviets in guided missile development but won't say so for security reasons—was expressed, also, by a lawyer, electrician and banker.

The two most worried people encountered by this reporter were David Fenske and John Kroos, both 14 and freshmen at central high.

While concerned, John was certain America would catch up:

"Russia puts out a lot more engineers and scientists than we do but we got the smarter ones. That's what our science teacher says."

"The intercontinental ballistic missiles frightens me the most," David said. "It's time we stopped bickering about money and started building up our missiles program now."

"I don't think we've really been told how far we've progressed in missiles," said W. F. Schlundt, vice president of the Security National Bank.

Is there a special female reaction?

"I just haven't thought about it much," said Joyce Menice, saleswoman at Rudnick's jewelry store.

There have been no letters written to the editor of the Sheboygan Press about Sputnik. Only a few phone calls, said Harold R. Maier, managing editor.

"I'm not too disturbed," said the Rev. T. Parry Jones of the First Methodist Church.

Said Ray Zeinemann, electrician:

"I think the Russians will be the first to send a man up to the moon. After all, Russia doesn't give a damn whether he gets back."

"My opinion," said another beer drinker, "is I don't worry about it. Half the stuff you hear isn't true, anyway."

By RELMAN MORIN

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—When the average man in the South speaks about the Russian satellites at all today—and you don't hear much talk of them—he is more likely to joke than to express anxiety or outrigh. fear.

For one thing, the military implications apparently are by no means widely understood. At a cigar counter in Gainesville, Ga., a few days ago, a man was saying: "They've got a gadget whizzing around out there somewhere. So what? Are they going to bomb us tomorrow?"

In Chattanooga, Tenn., a farmer said: "I just don't believe in that stuff. Sounds to me like more Russian propaganda."

In the region around the National Laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., one of the centers of atomic research, the man on the street plainly reflects the attitude of scientists and technicians working nearby.

"I'm glad the Russians did it," said a man from Kingsport, Tenn. He went on to say that, in his opinion, American scientists have not been given the unhindered opportunity to develop research projects.

"They've been pushing the scientists around too long," he said. "They call them 'eggheads.' Now the Russian 'eggheads' have gone ahead of us."

The trial of Col. John Nickerson also comes into the conversation.

Nickerson, member of an Army rocket development team, was convicted recently by court-martial of failing to safeguard military secrets when he protested a defense department decision on the Jupiter program.

A Knoxville taxi driver said: "I'm not surprosed the Russians got ahead of us. All they do in Washington is beat their gums and take the best man we've got —this fellow Nickerson—and send him to the sticks."

In a curious way, the fact the Russians put a dog inside Sputnik II seems to have impressed people in this region more than the fact that they succeeded in getting the bigger satellite into its robit.

"Think of that poor dog," said a Gatlinburg housewife. "That's a cruel thing to do."

Sputnik may have contributed to a decline in President Eisenhower's popularity in the South today.

"But it isn't only Sputnik and Little Rock," says Horace Wells, weekly newspaper publisher in Clinton, Tenn. "It's a lot of other things as well."

In short, people in this region seem more curious than alarmed about the Soviet success. Few express worry over the military potentialities.

Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal

WASHINGTON (AP)—An effort is being made to revive an old plan to link the Ohio River and Lake Erie with a canal.

Rep. Clark (D-Pa) said today he has asked the Army Engineers to draft a resolution for presentation to Congress. If adopted, it would direct the engineers to prepare a report "adequate in scope to enable Congress to appropriate money for the construction of locks and dams" for the canal.

An Ohio canal of this type was approved by Congress as far back as 1935, but has been consistently fought ever since by railroads and other industries in the area.

Clark told a reporter one of the chief opponents of the canal is the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Aides of Sen. Martin (R-Pa) said Martin is scheduled to attend a luncheon of businessmen at the Duquesne Club in Pittsburgh next Tuesday. They said that a number of problems will be discussed, probably including the canal.

Clark said the project, which involves widening and deepening of the Mahoning and Beaver Rivers in Ohio and Pennsylvania, would cost more than one billion dollars.

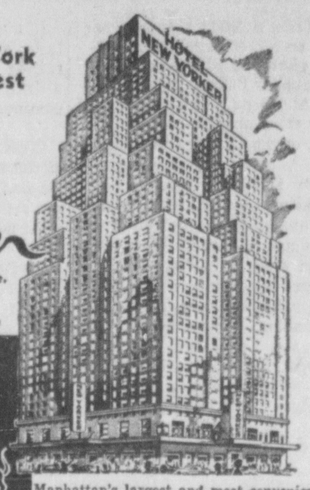

He said that with the St. Lawrence Seaway fast becoming a reality, many industries in the eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania would experience "a step forward in their economic life" if such a canal were built.

By SAUL PETT

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — The people in this industrial community of 45,000—"the worst city in the world," as sausage fans know it—read about, talk about, wonder about Soviet satellites, but there is little sign of deep concern.

Mention Sputnik in Sheboygan and the first reaction is a broad grin and frequently a joke.

Among many people, a spot check of opinion showed, there is a refusal to admit that the United States is really behind the Russians in outer space or, if it is, that it will stay behind long.

"I think we're catching up with them but we're just not letting it out," said Mrs. August Miller, a waitress. "What it took them five years to make, we'll probably make in a year."

This same idea—that America is close to or even ahead of the Soviets in guided missile development but won't say so for security reasons—was expressed, also, by a lawyer, electrician and banker.

The two most worried people encountered by this reporter were David Fenske and John Kroos, both 14 and freshmen at central high.

While concerned, John was certain America would catch up:

"Russia puts out a lot more engineers and scientists than we do but we got the smarter ones. That's what our science teacher says."

"The intercontinental ballistic missiles frightens me the most," David said. "It's time we stopped bickering about money and started building up our missiles program now."

"I don't think we've really been told how far we've progressed in missiles," said W. F. Schlundt, vice president of the Security National Bank.

There have been no letters written to the editor of the Sheboygan Press about Sputnik. Only a few phone calls, said Harold R. Maier, managing editor.

"I'm not too disturbed," said the Rev. T. Parry Jones of the First Methodist Church.

Said Ray Zeinemann, electrician:

"I think the Russians will be the first to send a man up to the moon. After all, Russia doesn't give a damn whether he gets back."

"My opinion," said another beer drinker, "is I don't worry about it. Half the stuff you hear isn't true, anyway."

By RELMAN MORIN

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—When the average man in the South speaks about the Russian satellites at all today—and you don't hear much talk of them—he is more likely to joke than to express anxiety or outrigh. fear.

For one thing, the military implications apparently are by no means widely understood. At a cigar counter in Gainesville, Ga., a few days ago, a man was saying: "They've got a gadget whizzing around out there somewhere. So what? Are they going to bomb us tomorrow?"

In Chattanooga, Tenn., a farmer said: "I just don't believe in that stuff. Sounds to me like more Russian propaganda."

In the region around the National Laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., one of the centers of atomic research, the man on the street plainly reflects the attitude of scientists and technicians working nearby.

"I'm glad the Russians did it," said a man from Kingsport, Tenn. He went on to say that, in his opinion, American scientists have not been given the unhindered opportunity to develop research projects.

"They've been pushing the scientists around too long," he said. "They call them 'eggheads.' Now the Russian 'eggheads' have gone ahead of us."

Nickerson, member of an Army rocket development team, was convicted recently by court-martial of failing to safeguard military secrets when he protested a defense department decision on the Jupiter program.

A Knoxville taxi driver said: "I'm not surprosed the Russians got ahead of us. All they do in Washington is beat their gums and take the best man we've got —this fellow Nickerson—and send him to the sticks."

In a curious way, the fact the Russians put a dog inside Sputnik II seems to have impressed people in this region more than the fact that they succeeded in getting the bigger satellite into its robit.

"But it isn't only Sputnik and Little Rock," says Horace Wells, weekly newspaper publisher in Clinton, Tenn. "It's a lot of other things as well."

One of a Series of Articles

Teachers of Our Community

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on various phases of education which will appear daily in connection with American Education Week. They were prepared at the request of the City Teacher Assn.

By EARL F. MILLER
President City Teachers Assn.

The quality of education of our youth depends largely upon what happens when a teacher and some pupils get together in a classroom. All other factors have much to do with making it possible to have high quality education at economical cost, but the possibility these factors establish comes to realization only when teaching is well done.

Our community is fortunate in having a well-prepared staff of teachers. As president of the Washington City Teachers Assn. and a teacher in the system, I have been able to gain a much greater evaluation as to the quality of our teachers.

Being in contact with some of them day by day, seeing them give much of their time and energy to make public education "Our Democratic Heritage" creates in one a feeling of pride in his work.

It makes one feel that these efforts are largely responsible for raising the prestige of teaching on a truly professional level in our community.

* * *

CONCERNING the qualification of the teachers in our community, we find the following results: One per cent with doctorate and 24 per cent with Master degrees. Fifty-six per cent hold Bachelor degrees, and of this group 29 per cent have five or more years of training.

Nine per cent have over three years of training, with 10 per cent under three years. While we know that it isn't training alone that makes the teacher, still we are constantly striving to encourage them to improve themselves through training and travel.

Another aspect that draws attention is the one of stability of our teachers. The teacher who is just "passing through" a community has become a rarity. The average number of years taught by teachers in the Washington system is 11.7 years as compared with 6.7 years as the national figure.

* * *

THIS STABILITY has been largely responsibile for making it possible for teachers to become better citizens. Today, the teachers are heavy voters and have become very active in community affairs. Above all, they are genuinely interested in the youth of the community.

We urge that the home and school work together for the benefit of our children. We are all on the same team working for the same objectives. Furthermore, we would like for parents to bring their children's problems to them in a spirit of home, school cooperation.

We must recognize that teachers and all other citizens in our community are partners in the "Grand Enterprise of Education."

Joan Tabor Becomes 'Star' Even Before Making Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joan Tabor, a luscious red-haired, green-eyed doll, has only been in town a few weeks but she could give lessons on how to become a movie star.

She has never made a movie—but she will.

Unknown outside of Chicago, where she worked as a TV actress, or her home town of Sioux Falls, S.D., Joan, in a few weeks, has most studios in town interested in her.

First thing she did was hire a press agent. She liked the way Anita Ekberg's career zoomed so she called first on Miss Ekberg's press agent. He took one look and took her on on a percentage deal.

Next she sought an agent. She like the way Jayne Mansfield's career went, in a few months from $150 a week to $75,000 a picture. So Joan met William Shiffrin, who handles Miss Mansfield. Shiffrin took one look and signed her.

She like the way Marilyn Monroe progressed from starlet to her present stature as one of the better actresses. So she hired Natasha Lytess, once Marilyn's closest adviser and drama coach.

Milton Weiss, the press agent, moved fast. An old hand in the business, it was easy for him to get Joan sponsored as a deb-star at the annual ball of the makeup artists and hair stylists. It's an important publicity break because most of the town's big people attend and the girls are presented beautifully.

Now the offers are coming in. Several would have turned any starlet's head but Joan is businesswoman first, starlet second.

One of a Series of Articles

Teachers of Our Community

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on various phases of education which will appear daily in connection with American Education Week. They were prepared at the request of the City Teacher Assn.

By EARL F. MILLER
President City Teachers Assn.

The quality of education of our youth depends largely upon what happens when a teacher and some pupils get together in a classroom. All other factors have much to do with making it possible to have high quality education at economical cost, but the possibility these factors establish comes to realization only when teaching is well done.

Our community is fortunate in having a well-prepared staff of teachers. As president of the Washington City Teachers Assn. and a teacher in the system, I have been able to gain a much greater evaluation as to the quality of our teachers.

Being in contact with some of them day by day, seeing them give much of their time and energy to make public education "Our Democratic Heritage" creates in one a feeling of pride in his work.

It makes one feel that these efforts are largely responsible for raising the prestige of teaching on a truly professional level in our community.

• • •

CONCERNING the qualification of the teachers in our community, we find the following results: One per cent with doctorate and 24 per cent with Master degrees. Fifty-six per cent hold Bachelor degrees, and of this group 29 per cent have five or more years of training.

Nine per cent have over three years of training, with 10 per cent under three years. While we know that it isn't training alone that makes the teacher, still we are constantly striving to encourage them to improve themselves through training and travel.

Another aspect that draws attention is the one of stability of our teachers. The teacher who is just "passing through" a community has become a rarity. The average number of years taught by teachers in the Washington system is 11.7 years as compared with 6.7 years as the national figure.

• • •

THIS STABILITY has been largely responsibile for making it possible for teachers to become better citizens. Today, the teachers are heavy voters and have become very active in community affairs. Above all, they are genuinely interested in the youth of the community.

We urge that the home and school work together for the benefit of our children. We are all on the same team working for the same objectives. Furthermore, we would like for parents to bring their children's problems to them in a spirit of home, school cooperation.

We must recognize that teachers and all other citizens in our community are partners in the "Grand Enterprise of Education."

Joan Tabor Becomes 'Star' Even Before Making Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joan Tabor, a luscious red-haired, green-eyed doll, has only been in town a few weeks but she could give lessons on how to become a movie star.

She has never made a movie—but she will.

Unknown outside of Chicago, where she worked as a TV actress, or her home town of Sioux Falls, S.D., Joan, in a few weeks, has most studios in town interested in her.

First thing she did was hire a press agent. She liked the way Anita Ekberg's career zoomed so she called first on Miss Ekberg's press agent. He took one look and took her on on a percentage deal.

Next she sought an agent. She like the way Jayne Mansfield's career went, in a few months from $150 a week to $75,000 a picture. So Joan met William Shiffrin, who handles Miss Mansfield. Shiffrin took one look and signed her.

She like the way Marilyn Monroe progressed from starlet to her present stature as one of the better actresses. So she hired Natasha Lytess, once Marilyn's closest adviser and drama coach.

Milton Weiss, the press agent, moved fast. An old hand in the business, it was easy for him to get Joan sponsored as a deb-star at the annual ball of the makeup artists and hair stylists. It's an important publicity break because most of the town's big people attend and the girls are presented beautifully.

Bob Hope annually takes the prettiest of deb-stars for his TV show. Joan made that group and will be seen on Hope's TV show as soon as he gets his sponsor trouble ironed out.

Shiffrin, a top agent, took her around the studios. Practically everyone gave her a color screen test—red hair and green eyes are still a rare commodity.

Now the offers are coming in. Several would have turned any starlet's head but Joan is businesswoman first, starlet second.

Tired, Aching, Sore Muscles

Get Fast Over-Night Relief

One application of EMERALD Oil and you'll get the surprise of your life. Your tired, stiff back—your aching feet and legs will respond gratefully.

No fuss, no trouble; you just apply a little of the oil over the surface and rub it in. It's simply wonderful the way it acts, often a hot towel to open up the pores is all the help EMERALD OIL needs.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other powerful ingredients — so marvelous that thousands of bottles of MOONE'S EMERALD OIL are sold annually for tired aching feet and legs.

DOWNTOWN DRUG CO.

City Areas High In Cancer Deaths

CLEVELAND (AP) — City areas have more cancer deaths than rural Ohio areas, the state Health Department says.

Dr. Thomas Mancuso and Dr. Elizabeth Coulter made a study of the cancer death rate on the basis of death certificates between 1947 and 1951.

Summit County had a higher rate of brain and spinal cord tumors than any section.

Columbusite Convicted

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Franklin County jury Wednesday convicted Alonzo Wade, 36, Columbus, of second degree murder in the knife slaying of James H. Fielder, 36, also of Columbus. Fielder was killed July 6 after an argument.

Ohio Horse Bet Total Increases During Year

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Taxation reports $130,018,238 was wagered at major harness and running horse race meetings in Ohio this year, compared with $122,971,608 last year.

The state realized $7,811,136 in taxes on this year's meetings compared with $7,048,481 last year, according to Stanley J. Bowers, state tax commissioner.

Builders Hoping For Change in Money Mart

By SAM DAWSON

Some feel sure it will come next year, making 1958 the time to build. Others are just as sure that long term financing will be as tight and expensive two or three years from now as it is today.

Those who think tight money is due to ease soon cite a fall in supply of home mortgages this year because home building is off, and also count on an expected drop next year in demand for funds for business expansion. They argue these two things will make investment funds plentiful.

The doubting thomases say that there are fewer new mortgages today simply because money is so tight and borrowing so expensive that fewer persons can afford to build houses. They say that any drop in demand for new financing by business will be more than offset by rising demand for funds by state, local and federal governments.

A drop in interest rates on long term borrowing such as mortgages for home and office building is called unlikely for some time, although short term interest rates may ease.

The long rise in the yields of bonds has tended to drain some money out of the lending market.

At the Chicago meeting of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards its members reported money usually available for choice commercial buildings with interest rates still rising and much business done at 6 per cent.

George Warnecke, head of a national mortgage investment and real estate firm, says it is getting tough to find a syndicate to finance the bigger projects — as Vincent Astor found when he failed to raise a 75 million dollar mortage for his proposed skyscraper on New York's Park Avenue.

Some lenders and builders are wondering if the halt in the Astor project may be a signal that the big postwar office building boom is nearing an end.

He also reports that in some sections builders are finding it hard to sell new houses. But he notes that almost everywhere apartment building is still booming. He thinks one reason is that rising property taxes on homes in many newly developed areas are making apartment dwelling more appealing.

Antioch College Plans Shakespearean Expansion

YELLOW SPRINGS (AP) — Antioch College will expand its Shakespeare-under-the-Stars Festival into a summer program of theater, music and art beginning in 1959. The program will be suspended during 1958.

The new program will be headed by a fulltime associate director and continuing education. A summer festival advisory council also will be formed and will include off-campus representatives.

FOAM rubber

- striking modern design
- look at that low price!

REG. $279.95
SPECIAL!
$199.77

15 TO SELECT FROM IN GOLD, GREY, TURQUOISE, BROWN, RED, GREEN AND TOAST METALLIC TWEEDS

★ FULL 5¼-INCH B. F. GOODRICH "TEXFOAM" CUSHIONS, not the ordinary 4-inch cushions usually found on sectionals at this low price!

★ UPHOLSTERED UNDERNEATH THE CUSHIONS with the same fabric used on each piece. This is usually done only on expensive, made-to-order sofas!

No, you're not being kidded . . . you really get all three pieces for one tiny price. You get luxurious comfort that lasts, because foam rubber won't pack or bog down. You get high style in these low slung beauties, and expensive detailing like cantilever arms and smart button tufting. Best of all, you save a whopping lot of dollars . . . shop around, compare for quality and price, then hurry in for yours before we sell them all. Come early for best choice of modern covers and colors.

Citizens Protest May Stall Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The deadline for dropping flies in the Los Angeles Dodgers' baseball ointment is today—and citizens protesting the Chavez Ravine real estate deal say they are set to unload a whopper.

A group called the Committee to save Chavez Ravine for the People says it has collected at least 51,787 reasons why the Dodgers may not be playing there in the foreseeable future.

The committee said that before the 5 p. m. deadline a petition with more than the required 51,787 signatures to force a public election on the city's Chavez Ravine deal will be filed with the City Election Commission.

Spartans To Defend Cross-Country Title

Running against the Spartans in the Big Ten and Central Collegiate Conference meet will be Ohio State, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Minnesota.

Utah's Glue-Finger Halfback Leads U. S. as Pass Receiver

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 5-8 senior halfback has caught a half dozen more than than five a game, and is within reach of the top total in five years. Vaughan also could become the fourth major college player ever to latch on to 50 passes in a single season by maintaining his average against Utah's last two opponents, Air Force and Utah State.

Other statistics leaders this week are SMU's Dave Sherer in punting, Oregon State's Sterling Hammack in punt returns, Utah State's Overton Curtis in kickoff returns and Army's Bob Anderson in scoring.

Vaughan, who has wrapped up at least four passes in all but one of his eight games, is the only major college player in the nation with three receptions in each game played.

Dayton's Fred Dugan is second in this year's race with 35 receptions, one more than Washington State's Don Ellingsen—who has a similar margin over Garry Kapp of Utah State.

Sherer has only a slight edge in the punting derby, averaging 44.0 yards to the 43.5 mark of Tennessee's Bobby Gordon.

Curtis has returned 17 kickoffs for 536 yards, good enough for the title since Clarence Bruton of Marquette, the No. 2 man, has totaled only 310 yards on 12. Hammack has rolled 253 yards returning 21 punts, but Arizona State's Bob Mulgado, with only half as many, is just 14 yards behind.

Machen Eyes Title Bout After Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A title fight, low blows and possibilities of retirement formed boxing topics today after undefeated heavyweight Eddie Machen slammed and battered Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson into surrender.

The 195-pound Machen, 25, of Redding, Calif., wants the championship bout with Floyd Patterson. He has an added talking point since his televised fight with Jackson Wednesday night goes into the record as a 10th-round TKO, the same as Patterson scored over Jackson in July.

Jackson and Manager Lippe Briedbart declared Eddie hit several low blows in taking his 24th straight victory. Machen said he didn't hit below the belt knowingly. Referee Frankie Carter didn't assess any penalties.

With Jackson's right eye puffed closed at the end of the 10th, Briedbart called Carter over to view the damage and Frankie stopped it. The fight was scheduled for 12 rounds.

"I recommend that the fight be stopped," said Briedbart. Asked if he would have Jackson retire after the two consecutive batterings by Patterson and Machen, Lippe replied: "He'll have to take a long rest."

The Hurricane, from St. Albans, N. Y., who weighed his heaviest at 201 for this one, had little to say. Asked what he thought Machen could do against Patterson, he said only, "It'd be a good fight. Who'd win? I dunno."

Midwest Grid Expert Picks Iowa Over OSU

But if Bucks' Clark In Shape, It May Be Different, He Says

By JERRY LISKA
Midwest AP Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP) — The November wind blows no good, so we will steer the midwest football weathervane this way:

Iowa 14, Ohio State 13—We see tall corn waving victoriously at Columbus, Ohio, signalling a second consecutive Big Ten championship for Iowa's Hawkeyes. If Don Clark, the Buckeye Bullet, is in good health, though, hand us the Dunce cap. Two teams, Wisconsin and Purdue had Ohio State measured for size, but couldn't whistle across the right punch. If the Hawkeyes get within the 10-yard line, they'll deliver the mail. This should be a bruising showdown between Ohio State's ground-chewing attack and Iowa's ground-granite defense.

Wisconsin 21, Illinois 19—The Illini scored their two big upsets, against Minnesota and Michigan, at home. This game will be Wisconsin's Homecoming and the bolting Badgers, who have surprising depth for a young team, will be primed to roll. Each club has a 2-3 Big Ten record, Wisconsin having scored a 23-14 triumph over Purdue which defeated Illinois 21-6. Illini Bobby Mitchell and Badger Danny Lewis could have an interesting ball-carrying duel.

Oklahoma 20, Notre Dame 7—The Sooners, sallying forth for their 48th consecutive victory, will have loud support from the home folk. You can hardly hear a touchdown drop at Norman, Okla. An Irish shortcoming is lack of speed, both on offense and defense. Oklahoma is plenty swift in both departments, as you'll see on TV Saturday afternoon. This would be a grand spot for Terry Brennan's lads to score an upset. But the Sooners will be out to improve on Michigan State's 34-6 spanking of the Irish. People down Oklahoma way are tired of hearing about what a terrible Lion's den is the Big Ten.

Michigan State 14, Minnesota 7—MSU's Spartans need this one to preserve their Rose Bowl, if not Big Ten title chance. Just as Iowa against Ohio State, the Spartans will be closing their Big Ten card against the Gophers. The Spartans won't forget last year's 14-13 setback by Minnesota which knocked them from title contention. After rosy pre-season dreams, the Gophers are struggling to finish with a winning Big Ten mark, now standing 3-3. Mended Bob Blakley could give MSU trouble.

Purdue 18, Northwestern 7—The roof has fallen in on the Wildcats, now winless in seven starts. All season, Purdue has been one of the best "losing" clubs in the Big Ten, if not the country. The Boilermakers outplayed Ohio State the entire second half last Saturday. They also handed Michigan State its only loss of the season, 20-13.

Boston College 19, Marquette 7—Coach Johnny Druze of Marquette got the Warriors perking with some pro stuff—slot back and split ends — against Penn State. But that won't be enough to stave off the 19th straight Warrior setback.

8 Lions Play Last Game Here on Friday Night

Eight seniors on the three-team Washington C. H. High School Lion football squad will play their last game in the blue and white of their school Friday night when they meet the Hurricane from Wilmington on the Gardner Park field here.

Some of them may go on to play in college—as many other Lions have—but those who will play their last high school game Friday night are Jim Wilson, guard and co-captain; Roger McLean, back and co-captain; Doug Rider, center; Bill Herman, back; Kenny Evans, back; Hank Anders, back; Jack Anders, end, and Dick Welsh, center.

The squad had its last serious practice in the rain Wednesday after school. It started at 3 and continued until 5 p. m.

This evening, the Lions will merely go through signal drill and do a bit on punting, place kicking and kicking off in preparation for their final game Friday.

The Wednesday evening practice started with work on defense and wound up with offence. While there was considerable rugged contact, it was not in the form of a regular scrimmage.

* * *

THIS EVENING (Thursday), the mothers of the Lions are to meet again at the field house at Gardner Park. This will be the second mothers meeting and it will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Wives of the WHS coaches will be there in the role of hostesses.

The coaches will explain some of the basic principles of the sport to the mothers and, during the showing of the movies of last Friday's game at Circleville, will point out what their sons did and why.

Ohio State's Grid Salary Plan Debated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Joseph Kaplan, UCLA representative in the Pacific Coast Conference, has recommended that college athletes be given the "full ride"—tuition, books, board and room.

Dr. Kaplan, who also is chairman of the U. S. Committee for the International Geophysical year, offered his views at a news conference following a Bruin Varsity Club banquet Wednesday.

The educator endorsed in part the stand taken by Ohio State University faculty men who say a re-definition of amateurism is needed in college sports.

"I don't think an athlete should come out of college with a profit, but I also don't think he should take a loss. He should receive the essentials — board, room, books and tuition," he said.

Speaking on the same subject, Red Grange, famed as the "Galloping Ghost" of Illinois in the mid-1920s, called the Southeastern Conference's grant-in-aid scholarship program the "perfect solution for college athletes."

Grange said he was taking a middle view between no aid for athletes and a full salary suggested by Ohio State.

Grange said he thinks college athletes should be helped through school in some way without making it necessary to work.

"You can't go to school, play football, practice football and work too. Let's be honest," he said.

However, Grange said he "wouldn't go so far as that Ohio State group suggests in putting football players on a salary from gate receipts."

Boxscore Glamour Hit by Pro Coach

CINCINNATI (AP)—Coach Bobby Wanzer of the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. today had considerable to say about "boxscore glamour."

"It's more crippling than the flu," said Wanzer, whose team has lost four straight games after winning its two opening contests.

"A fan checks a boxscore and sees where a player racked up a lot of points," Wanzer said. "He immediately decides the player has played a terrific game, while actually the player may have given away more points than he scored. Players themselves sometimes start checking the boxscores and begin pumping up shots every time they get the ball. They catch boxscore glamour."

Akron National Guard AWOLs Tossed in Jail

AKRON (AP)—A local outfit of the Ohio National Guard is cracking down on absentees. It jailed nine of them, who will get a hearing Thursday night.

The nine, ranging in age from 17 to 19, were jailed over the weekend for "gross absenteeism," said Capt. Leland C. Frazier.

Toughest Game May Face Lions

Wilmington's Record Commands Respect

Wilmington's tempest-tossed Hurricane, sporting a better-than-average 6-2 record, just may be the toughest team in the South Central Ohio League, despite a 26-6 defeat at the hands of Greenfield.

The club lost only to Greenfield (26-6) and to Cincinnati's classy Norwood outfit, which triumphed 6-0 in a hard-fought battle. (The Lions lost to Greenfield, 14-0.)

On the other side of the scale, the Hurricane has beaten Lebanon, 13-6, and Cincinnati McNicholas, 7-0, both of them powerful teams.

Mickey Vanscoy and Harold (Sonny) Fields, a pair of fine halfbacks, have led the team on offense this season. Both have percarry averages of better than 4½ yards—difficult to maintain this late in the season.

The Norwood game this season —which was Wilmington's Homecoming—was the first since 1955 in which the Hurricane was held scoreless.

OSU Underclass Players Hailed

Paul Brown's QB-Fullback Combo Clicks

When coach Paul Brown's teams were burning up the National Football League, they had peerless Otto Graham at quarterback and hard running Marion Motley at fullback. Now the Browns have Tommy O'Connell and Jimmy Brown.

O'Connell, former Illinois great, completed 7 of 11 passes last Sunday for the Eastern Division leading Browns to supplant little Eddie LeBaron of Washington as the No. 1 passer. O'Connell now has completed 42 of 70 for 703 yards, 5 TDs and a top average of 10.4 yards per try. He has had 5 intercepted.

LeBaron, who led the passers for the last four weeks, dropped to second, with 57 of 94 for 871 yards, 7 TDs and a 9.27 average. Each had 5 passes intercepted.

Tommy Wilson still leads the ball carriers but the Los Angeles star is being pressed for the first time in weeks by the irrepressible Brown of the Browns. Wilson has gained 501 yards on 99 carries, a 5.1 average, while Brown has 464 yards on 115 attempts, a 4 yard norm. Hugh McElhenny, second last week, fell to third with 452 yards on 92 runs, a 4.8 average.

Ohio Pacing Derby Revival Planned For Clinton Fair

The Ohio Pacing Derby is to be a part of the Clinton County Fair race program again next year, if preliminary plans laid by the Fair Board at this week's meeting materialize.

The board went on record in favor of revival of one of the top events in harness horse racing in these parts, but many of the details remain to be worked out.

The Ohio Pacing Derby was transferred from the Ohio State Fair to the Clinton County Fair in 1942, largely through the efforts of the late John W. Galvin of Wilmington. It was raced at the Fair there with a $2,000 purse each year until last summer, when it was dropped.

No announcement was made by the board concerning the purse in the future or the conditions for the race. The last time it was held it was for 2:17 class pacers.

The 1958 Clinton County Fair is tentatively scheduled for Aug. 5-9.

Michigan Staters Leading in Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — The Michigan State Spartans, who end their Big Ten football campaign Saturday against Minnesota, have taken over as leader in both offense and defense, conference statistics showed today.

MSU, with a 4-1 league record, gained top ranking although not playing a conference game last week. While previous leaders, Ohio State and Iowa, were defeating Purdue and Minnesota, respectively, the Spartans were trimming Notre Dame.

MSU's average of 359.4 yards on total offense per game shades Iowa's 359.0 and Ohio State 351.6. The Spartans' average yield to opponents of 188.6 compares to Iowa's 197.6.

CANTON (AP)—The bell from a retired steam locomotive will go to the winner of the traditional football game between Stark County high school rivals Canton McKinley and Massillon.

Meningitis Spreads

DALLAS (AP)—Asst. Public Health Director James C. Strong says spinal meningitis is near an epidemic stage in Dallas. He said 14 cases and three deaths have been reported this year.

Midwest Grid Expert Picks Iowa Over OSU

But if Bucks' Clark In Shape, It May Be Different, He Says

By JERRY LISKA
Midwest AP Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP) — The November wind blows no good, so we will steer the midwest football weathervane this way:

Iowa 14, Ohio State 13—We see tall corn waving victoriously at Columbus, Ohio, signalling a second consecutive Big Ten championship for Iowa's Hawkeyes. If Don Clark, the Buckeye Bullet, is in good health, though, hand us the Dunce cap. Two teams, Wisconsin and Purdue had Ohio State measured for size, but couldn't whistle across the right punch. If the Hawkeyes get within the 10-yard line, they'll deliver the mail. This should be a bruising showdown between Ohio State's ground-chewing attack and Iowa's ground-granite defense.

Wisconsin 21, Illinois 19—The Illini scored their two big upsets, against Minnesota and Michigan, at home. This game will be Wisconsin's Homecoming and the bolting Badgers, who have surprising depth for a young team, will be primed to roll. Each club has a 2-3 Big Ten record, Wisconsin having scored a 23-14 triumph over Purdue which defeated Illinois 21-6. Illini Bobby Mitchell and Badger Danny Lewis could have an interesting ball-carrying duel.

Oklahoma 20, Notre Dame 7—The Sooners, sallying forth for their 48th consecutive victory, will have loud support from the home folk. You can hardly hear a touchdown drop at Norman, Okla. An Irish shortcoming is lack of speed, both on offense and defense. Oklahoma is plenty swift in both departments, as you'll see on TV Saturday afternoon. This would be a grand spot for Terry Brennan's lads to score an upset. But the Sooners will be out to improve on Michigan State's 34-6 spanking of the Irish. People down Oklahoma way are tired of hearing about what a terrible Lion's den is the Big Ten.

Michigan State 14, Minnesota 7—MSU's Spartans need this one to preserve their Rose Bowl, if not Big Ten title chance. Just as Iowa against Ohio State, the Spartans will be closing their Big Ten card against the Gophers. The Spartans won't forget last year's 14-13 setback by Minnesota which knocked them from title contention. After rosy pre-season dreams, the Gophers are struggling to finish with a winning Big Ten mark, now standing 3-3. Mended Bob Blakley could give MSU trouble.

Purdue 18, Northwestern 7—The roof has fallen in on the Wildcats, now winless in seven starts. All season, Purdue has been one of the best "losing" clubs in the Big Ten, if not the country. The Boilermakers outplayed Ohio State the entire second half last Saturday. They also handed Michigan State its only loss of the season, 20-13.

Michigan 30, Indiana 6—Indiana is like the chap who stooped to tie his shoelace in front of an elephant parade. Coach-in-charge Bob Hicks deserves a medal for bravery. The Wolverines emerged from their 20-19 setback at Illinois with ruffled feelings. They won't need to catch their own kickoffs against the Hoosiers.

Boston College 19, Marquette 7—Coach Johnny Druze of Marquette got the Warriors perking with some pro stuff—slot back and split ends — against Penn State. But that won't be enough to stave off the 19th straight Warrior setback.

Ohio State's Grid Salary Plan Debated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Joseph Kaplan, UCLA representative in the Pacific Coast Conference, has recommended that college athletes be given the "full ride"—tuition, books, board and room.

Ohio Pacing Derby Revival Planned For Clinton Fair

The Ohio Pacing Derby is to be a part of the Clinton County Fair race program again next year, if preliminary plans laid by the Fair Board at this week's meeting materialize.

The board went on record in favor of revival of one of the top events in harness horse racing in these parts, but many of the details remain to be worked out.

The Ohio Pacing Derby was transferred from the Ohio State Fair to the Clinton County Fair in 1942, largely through the efforts of the late John W. Galvin of Wilmington. It was raced at the Fair there with a $2,000 purse each year until last summer, when it was dropped.

No announcement was made by the board concerning the purse in the future or the conditions for the race. The last time it was held it was for 2:17 class pacers.

The 1958 Clinton County Fair is tentatively scheduled for Aug. 5-9.

Michigan Staters Leading in Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — The Michigan State Spartans, who end their Big Ten football campaign Saturday against Minnesota, have taken over as leader in both offense and defense, conference statistics showed today.

MSU, with a 4-1 league record, gained top ranking although not playing a conference game last week. While previous leaders, Ohio State and Iowa, were defeating Purdue and Minnesota, respectively, the Spartans were trimming Notre Dame.

MSU's average of 359.4 yards on total offense per game shades Iowa's 359.0 and Ohio State 351.6. The Spartans' average yield to opponents of 188.6 compares to Iowa's 197.6.

Massillon-McKinley Winner To Get Bell

The trophy, donated by the Nickel Plate Railroad, will be retained each year by the winning team.

Meningitis Spreads

DALLAS (AP)—Asst. Public Health Director James C. Strong says spinal meningitis is near an epidemic stage in Dallas. He said 14 cases and three deaths have been reported this year.

THE BEAUTIFUL WAY TO BE THRIFTY...'58 CHEVROLET!

The Delray 2-Door Sedan—bold beauty and Body by Fisher in Chevy's lowest priced Series!

'58! CHEVROLET FORWARD FROM FIFTY

Economy never looked like this or performed like this before. But now look what the '58 Chevrolet offers you—even in the lowest priced Delray Series you see illustrated here.

Look what the beautiful new Delray models do for your dollars! They're the lowest priced of all the low-priced Chevrolets. But they're long, low and loaded just the same. A full nine inches longer, dramatically lower, and loaded with new things that make driving happier and riding smoother.

Just try one! Power ranges from the budget-minded 145-h.p. Blue-Flame 6 to Chevy's radical 280-h.p. Super Turbo-Thrust V8.* Delrays, like other models, have a new Full Coil suspension—a softer, road-leveling ride. You can have a real air ride* to make the going even smoother—and Overdrive* to make it even thriftier. See all that's new at your Chevrolet dealer's. *Optional at extra cost

Underground Water Supply Said Average

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio had less rain and snow during the water year that ended Sept. 30, but the underground water supply now is about average.

The state Division of Water Wednesday said that resulted because of the large amounts of rain that fell in April, May and June. Ordinarily, underground water supplies build up the most October through March.

Had the heavy rains come in January, February and March, the report says, we now would have underground water levels.

Precipitation for the year varied throughout the state, from 27.14 inches at Toledo, 4.7 inches below normal, to 46.58 inches at Cincinnati, 7.34 inches above normal. The state average, from measurements taken at eight places, was 34.4 inches, or 2.45 inches below normal.

As a whole, stream flows in the state were slightly below normal during the year. They were greater than during the 1953-55 dry period but not as high as last year.

"Flow was sufficient and distributed favorable enough so that no critical shortages were reported in any of the larger water supply impoundments," the report said.

Three wells—at Columbus, Columbus Grove and Canton—have shown lower levels each year for the last several years. Their water is used by municipalities.

"But even at the time of least pumping the levels remained well below those of five or more years ago," the report added.

Underground Water Supply Said Average

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio had less rain and snow during the water year that ended Sept. 30, but the underground water supply now is about average.

The state Division of Water Wednesday said that resulted because of the large amounts of rain that fell in April, May and June. Ordinarily, underground water supplies build up the most October through March.

But this year the recharge occurred as late as June in some places.

Had the heavy rains come in January, February and March, the report says, we now would have underground water levels.

Precipitation for the year varied throughout the state, from 27.14 inches at Toledo, 4.7 inches below normal, to 46.58 inches at Cincinnati, 7.34 inches above normal. The state average, from measurements taken at eight places, was 34.4 inches, or 2.45 inches below normal.

As a whole, stream flows in the state were slightly below normal during the year. They were greater than during the 1953-55 dry period but not as high as last year.

"Flow was sufficient and distributed favorable enough so that no critical shortages were reported in any of the larger water supply impoundments," the report said.

Three wells—at Columbus, Columbus Grove and Canton—have shown lower levels each year for the last several years. Their water is used by municipalities.

"But even at the time of least pumping the levels remained well below those of five or more years ago," the report added.

Georgian Named Head Of Clay Product Group

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—The Structural Clay Products Institute has elected Kenneth W. Dunwody of Macon, Ga., as president.

Dunwody was elected to succeed John H. Stewart of Canton, Ohio, to head the institute, a national organization of brick and tile manufacturers.

25 Members of Band Make Last Appearance At Game Friday Night

Twenty - five members of the 110-piece Washington C. H. High School marching band will make their final appearance on the football field in Friday night's combined Homecoming - Band Night show.

One of them has been in the band six years and nine have been in it five years. The others for shorter periods.

For this is the show in which the seniors, 25 of them this year, file slowly through the traditional hourglass formation as a farewell appearance while the rest of the band plays Auld Lang Syne.

This will bring to a close the halftime show at the football game between the Lions of WHS and the Hurricane from Wilmington.

It will come after the band has provided the backdrop for the annual Homecoming ceremonies, before the game and at the start of the halftime show.

* * *

NORMALLY the Homecoming is held about mid - season and Band Night at the final home game. But this year, they had to be combined because the Homecoming game with the Hurricane, scheduled for Oct. 18 was postponed because of illness among students at Wilmington.

The evening's two - ply festivities will open with the entrance of Queen Jean Conaway and her court while the band serenades them with "Beautiful Lady" and "Sweetheart of Washington High (Sigma Chi)."

At the halftime, the band will take Queen Jean on a quick trip on a "Banana Boat" before she is escorted to the field by Drum Major Randy Mann for another tribute.

School Absences Still about Normal

Three schools in the county reported Thursday that absenteeism remained above the 10 per cent normal for this time of year. The same three schools, all of the Miami Trace district, had 14 per cent of their students absent Wednesday.

However, Thursday Marion had 18 per cent out; Jeffersonville elementary had 16 per cent, but Bookwalter had better attendance than Wednesday with only 11.5 per cent absent.

Miami Trace Superintendent Walter W. Boyer reported that one teacher was out Thursday because of the flu. She is Mrs. Mildred Hall of Bookwalter. Mrs. Hall's classes were being taught, by a substitute teacher.

Boyer also said that at least a part of the absenteeism at Marion School was due to an outbreak of chicken-pox and mumps.

City schools had 7.4 per cent absenteeism Thursday. Superintendent W. S. Smith said. He also reported that two Central School teachers were absent because of the flu. They are Mrs. Jocelyn Harper and Mrs. Olive Prosch. Substitute teachers are teaching their classes.

Kay Heistand May Become County Winner

Mrs. Harry Craig reported Thursday that she believed Miss Kay Heistand, who won the Prince of Peace contest conducted at the Bloomingburg Methodist Church last Sunday night will be declared the Fayette County winner and will represent the county in a district contest to be held early in January. To the best of her knowledge, Mrs. Craig said, no other contests are planned in the county.

The contest was sponsored by the Bloomingburg Methodist and Presbyterian Churches and the Bloomingburg High School.

* * *

BOTH TALKS were about 10 minutes in length and had been prepared by the Ohio Council of Churches. Miss Heistand's subject was "Will the Church Stand?" It concerned the reluctance of a world - famous aviator to bomb a church while on combat flight during World War II.

Miss Schlichter's subject was "The Peace Speech."

District contests will be conducted over the entire state with the winners competing at the Ohio Pastors' Convention in Columbus, Jan. 29, 1958. The first prize winner in the state contest will receive $200 cash and four - year college scholarship.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT
FAMOUS KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE
BY TAKING THIS COUPON TO DOWNTOWN DRUG STORE
211 E. COURT ST.

We want every family to have a bottle of Indian ARROW ROOT while supply lasts. To prove the value of this wonderful product of Nature, we make this liberal offer. In the treatment of Stomach, Gall Bladder, Liver and Kidney trouble you will be delighted with its mild thorough results.

Within eight hours it will usually drive poisons from the body that are black as ink. Rheumatism and Neuritis pains and aches will as a rule start to disappear the second or third day, as nature is given a chance to function and regular elimination is restored.

Swelling and stiffness usually requires eight to ten doses. However, Bloating, Indigestion and Gas in the stomach are usually relieved with but one dose. Regulation of the bowels is most important and you will usually depend on full and free elimination within eight or ten hours after taking the first dose.

If you have been bothered by coughs and colds this Fall fortify your bloodstream with the precious roots and herbs in this wonderful blood tonic now.

If you feel a cold coming on take one tablespoon and one teaspoon baking soda in half glass of hot water. Stir well and repeat this in four hours - and you will never know you had a cold.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL AND YOU'LL JUMP OUT OF BED IN THE MORNING RARIN' TO GO.

The liver should pour about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes mild, gentle Arrow Root to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." This preparation contains 12 of the best herbs grown in America, and it will work bile off of the liver black as ink. Get a bottle of Arrow Root today at Downtown Drug, 211 E. Court St.

For Constipation and Nervousness alone it is a God-send to any Man, Woman or Child who will take it. You can take one tablespoon of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of hot water and it will stop indigestion faster than all the Soda you can get in your stomach.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT is sold to you on a absolutely money back guarantee. If you are not satisfied with results, your purchase price will be refunded by your dealer.

If you buy a bottle of Indian Arrow Root for $2.00, Downtown Drug Store will give you a full $2.00 Bottle Absolutely Free.

25 Members of Band Make Last Appearance At Game Friday Night

Twenty - five members of the 110-piece Washington C. H. High School marching band will make their final appearance on the football field in Friday night's combined Homecoming - Band Night show.

One of them has been in the band six years and nine have been in it five years. The others for shorter periods.

While the Band Night show always has been one of the most colorful of the season, it also is one of the most dramatic... and saddest.

For this is the show in which the seniors, 25 of them this year, file slowly through the traditional hourglass formation as a farewell appearance while the rest of the band plays Auld Lang Syne.

This will bring to a close the halftime show at the football game between the Lions of WHS and the Hurricane from Wilmington.

It will come after the band has provided the backdrop for the annual Homecoming ceremonies, before the game and at the start of the halftime show.

• • •

NORMALLY the Homecoming is held about mid - season and Band Night at the final home game. But this year, they had to be combined because the Homecoming game with the Hurricane, scheduled for Oct. 18 was postponed because of illness among students at Wilmington.

The evening's two - ply festivities will open with the entrance of Queen Jean Conaway and her court while the band serenades them with "Beautiful Lady" and "Sweetheart of Washington High (Sigma Chi)."

At the halftime, the band will take Queen Jean on a quick trip on a "Banana Boat" before she is escorted to the field by Drum Major Randy Mann for another tribute.

After that the band will form its traditional hourglass for the last appearance of the 25 seniors: John Rhoad, 6 years, baritone horn; Bob Burris, 5, trumpet; Dale Feutz, 5, trumpet; Dave Galliett, 5, trumpet; Linda Halliday, 5, clarinet; Larry Hurtt, 5, trumpet; Linda Loudner, 5, tenor saxophone; Earl Palmer, 5, tenor saxophone; Charlyn Reinke, 5, clarinet, bells and tympini; Tom Swaim, 5, bass drum; Benny Backenstoe, 4, tenor saxophone; Don Coulter, 4, trumpet; Janet Ellis, 4, oboe and majorette; Phil French, 2, cymbals; Joyce Hamilton, 3, baritone horn; Patti Knedler, 4, clarinet and bells; Joan Knisley, 4, French horn and majorette; Ron McCune, 3, drums; Kay Minshall, 4, clarinet; Martha Parrett, 4, flute; Larry Slavens, 4, trombone; Bill Weade, 1, trombone; Kathy Wright, 4, bass clarinet and majorette; Dick Willis, 1, trumpet, and Agnes Hutchinson, 1 clarinet. The three majorettes play instruments in the concert band.

The 25 seniors will then play the Alma Mater for the last time on the field while the crowd sings it.

A jury is hearing the case which is based on Miss Thompson's claim that Titus struck here on Nov. 26, 1956, fracturing her nose and inflicting other bodily injury.

Judge John P. Case ordered a recess at 11:45 p. m. Testimony was to resume at 1 p. m.

Workhouse Escapees Found at Poker Game

CINCINNATI (AP) — There were three poker hands on the table, but only one player when police entered the apartment of Frank Barkley.

A search disclosed the other two—Garrett Gray, 23, and Morgan Napier, 19, who had escaped from the workhouse a few hours earlier.

Gray had only eight days left of a workhouse sentence for larceny, while Napier would have been freed in 14 days. He was convicted of receiving stolen goods.

It's Rainy, Windy

Rains and heavy gusts of wind battered the county Wednesday night and Thursday. Some canvas awnings were damaged and some tree branches were downed by the wind.

Temperatures remained mild with the low Thursday morning being 49 degrees. Officially, the precipitation for the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. amounted to .64 inches.

Kay Heistand May Become County Winner

Mrs. Harry Craig reported Thursday that she believed Miss Kay Heistand, who won the Prince of Peace contest conducted at the Bloomingburg Methodist Church last Sunday night will be declared the Fayette County winner and will represent the county in a district contest to be held early in January. To the best of her knowledge, Mrs. Craig said, no other contests are planned in the county.

The contest was sponsored by the Bloomingburg Methodist and Presbyterian Churches and the Bloomingburg High School.

• • •

BOTH TALKS were about 10 minutes in length and had been prepared by the Ohio Council of Churches. Miss Heistand's subject was "Will the Church Stand?" It concerned the reluctance of a world - famous aviator to bomb a church while on combat flight during World War II.

Miss Schlichter's subject was "The Peace Speech."

District contests will be conducted over the entire state with the winners competing at the Ohio Pastors' Convention in Columbus, Jan. 29, 1958. The first prize winner in the state contest will receive $200 cash and four - year college scholarship.

We want every family to have a bottle of Indian ARROW ROOT while supply lasts. To prove the value of this wonderful product of Nature, we make this liberal offer. In the treatment of Stomach, Gall Bladder, Liver and Kidney trouble you will be delighted with its mild thorough results.

Within eight hours it will usually drive poisons from the body that are black as ink. Rheumatism and Neuritis pains and aches will as a rule start to disappear the second or third day, as nature is given a chance to function and regular elimination is restored.

Swelling and stiffness usually requires eight to ten doses. However, Bloating, Indigestion and Gas in the stomach are usually relieved with but one dose. Regulation of the bowels is most important and you will usually depend on full and free elimination within eight or ten hours after taking the first dose.

If you have been bothered by coughs and colds this Fall fortify your bloodstream with the precious roots and herbs in this wonderful blood tonic now.

If you feel a cold coming on take one tablespoon and one teaspoon baking soda in half glass of hot water. Stir well and repeat this in four hours - and you will never know you had a cold.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL AND YOU'LL JUMP OUT OF BED IN THE MORNING RARIN' TO GO.

The liver should pour about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes mild, gentle Arrow Root to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." This preparation contains 12 of the best herbs grown in America, and it will work bile off of the liver black as ink. Get a bottle of Arrow Root today at Downtown Drug, 211 E. Court St.

For Constipation and Nervousness alone it is a God-send to any Man, Woman or Child who will take it. You can take one tablespoon of INDIAN ARROW ROOT in a glass of hot water and it will stop indigestion faster than all the Soda you can get in your stomach.

INDIAN ARROW ROOT is sold to you on a absolutely money back guarantee. If you are not satisfied with results, your purchase price will be refunded by your dealer.

If you buy a bottle of Indian Arrow Root for $2.00, Downtown Drug Store will give you a full $2.00 Bottle Absolutely Free.

If the preparation is too bitter, add an equal part of lemon or grapefruit juice. Do not add orange juice.
